

'Thorough-Going Second Look:' Mansfield

Major Re-Examination Asked Of 'Great Society' Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield set wheels in motion today for a suggested "major re-examination"

by the Senate of "Great Society" program and older controversial laws such as the draft, income tax and foreign aid.

Mansfield issued his recommendations for a "thoroughgoing, second look" at major programs from medicare and civil rights to farm subsidies in a letter to the Senate's 17 committee chairmen.

Rockies Blanketed Again, Snow Whips Into Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The second big snowstorm of the new winter whined into the Midwest today after dropping up to 2 feet of snow in the southern Rockies.

Warnings of heavy snow and near-blizzard conditions went out to the area between northern New Mexico and northern Missouri and southern Iowa.

Notices of hazardous-driving conditions were issued for Missouri, Oklahoma, Nebraska, southern Iowa, Illinois and most of Indiana.

Skies began clearing in the Gallup, N.M., district. A foot of snow had piled up at the Gallup airport and 7 inches in Las Vegas, N.M.

Highways in northern New Mexico that had been closed during the night were opened today. But state police reported snow in the Santa Rosa area on U.S. 66 was slowing east-west traffic.

The Weather Bureau reported that snow in the southern Rockies measured up to 2 feet. Moving eastward, the storm tossed snow on Kansas, western Missouri and western and central Nebraska.

Three inches of snow fell in six hours in Garden City and Salina, Kan.

Light snow fell in the Great Lakes region.

Cold weather stretched across the North and reached deep into the Southeast.

Temperatures dropped early in the day to -20 in International Falls, Minn., -18 in Grand Forks, N.D., and -3 in Burlington, Vt.

Jacksville, Fla., had a low of 33 above zero.

Six to 8 inches of snow fell between Dallas and the Texas Panhandle, and Clayton, N.M. Rain slicked roads south of the snow zone.

In the East, snow flurries persisted near the Great Lakes and in the northern Appalachians. Binghamton, N.Y., received an inch in the six hours before midnight, bringing the ground cover there to seven inches.

Subzero cold persisted in North Dakota and near the Canadian border of Minnesota. It was mild in the far South.

Red Trap Backfires

Air Cavalry Hit Hard by Enemy

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — A battalion of North Vietnamese regulars overran positions of about 170 U.S. cavalrymen in the Crow's Foot area near the central coast before dawn today and inflicted heavy casualties, but finally broke and fled under intensive American fire.

Some Reds Killed by Own Cavalrymen sweeping the battlefield at dawn found 52 enemy bodies and 44 fresh graves. Some of these men of Hanoi's 22nd Regiment, 610th Division, evidently were killed by Communist fire when they ran into a trap set in the hope that Americans would do the running.

The Americans were about 60 troops of C Company, 1st Battalion, 12th Cavalry, 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division, and 110 artillerymen from two batteries totaling 10 howitzers. The artillerymen fired at point-blank range to help stem the onslaught.

About 250 of the estimated 600 enemy regulars — apparently positioned during the two-day Christmas truce — slashed into the egg-shaped American perimeter at two points in the initial attack. They knocked out one 105mm Howitzer with mortar fire and damaged two others with satchel charges. They dropped a grenade down the barrel of a 155mm piece, but it was a dud. The Americans were driven into a ring only 30 yards wide.

"I felt like Custer," said one of the artillery officers, Lt. Michael C. Livergood of Billings, Mont.

Air strikes, fire from a cavalry platoon on high ground nearby and shells from artillery at a landing zone 3½ miles away helped to break the attacks.

122 Truce Incidents The American and Vietnamese military commands reported 122 incidents occurred in South Vietnam during the cease-fire but declined to charge the Communists with truce violations. Most of the incidents were described as minor.

Today was the second successive day that the B52s made three strikes in one day. They attacked a Communist base camp 65 miles north-northwest of Cam Ranh Bay, a suspected troop concentration of 45 miles north-northwest of Saigon and a North Vietnamese base camp and supply point just south of the demilitarized zone.

Very poor weather limited U.S. raids over North Vietnam Monday to only 43 strike missions. Most of the raids were in the Dien Bien Phu area in the western part of the country and in the southern panhandle.

Lance Corporal Jimmy Turner, 19, of Waco, Texas, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bishop of 14 Main Street, Kingston, has a firsthand knowledge of the ravages of war. He was nearly blown to bits by a fragmentary hand grenade while standing watch near Dong Hoa, South Vietnam.

He was returned to the U. S. Naval Hospital in Corpus Christi, Texas.

Corporal Turner with three other men were on listening post about 11 o'clock at night out in front of the perimeter.

"There were two of us at one place, and about 10 yards farther over there were two men sitting down," the Marine reported. "The VC threw a grenade at the other two men, but it didn't go off, it was a dud. One of those men opened up at the VC with automatic rifles. I had just lain down to go to sleep. I woke up and grabbed my rifle. I thought they were attacking us."

Corporal Turner explained that the men stood watch in pairs. One slept in a foxhole while the other kept his eyes peeled.

"I saw they weren't right upon us, so I put on my cartridge belt, flack jacket and helmet. I saw a Marine walking around looking for the grenade. While he was walking around I could see flashlights over to our right," Turner said.

"The VC with their flashlights walked right up on us. I hollered 'halt,' when they didn't stop I opened up on 'em. After I opened up on 'em I could hear kids crying, so I told the other three men if they'd cover me I'd go over there and put some bandages on 'em."

Turner said when he went (Continued on Page 16, Col. 5)

Heavy Snowfall Lessens County Highway Mishaps

Toll Dips Sharply For Yule

561 Die, Snaps
9 Holiday Run

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accident deaths during the nation's Christmas holiday weekend fell sharply lower than last year's valedictory record and broke a chain of nine successive holiday deaths.

The toll was 561 as the 78-hour period ended at midnight. Last year, the three-day Christmas weekend brought 720 traffic deaths.

The count for the weekend just ended is subject to upward revision from delayed reports of fatalities but it was clearly under the 650 to 750 deaths estimated by the National Safety Council before the holiday.

A safety council spokesman said a weekend snowstorm which covered a broad swath of the nation from Oklahoma to New England kept perhaps a million motorists at home, cutting travel and accidents.

Nevertheless, fatalities far outnumbered those of a nonholiday period of similar length. The Associated Press surveyed traffic accident deaths from 6 p.m. (local time), Friday, Dec. 1, to midnight Monday, Dec. 12. The count of deaths then was 391.

The safety council issued an estimate for next weekend's three-day New Year observance when, it said, accidents probably would kill 10 to 90 more persons than on a nonholiday winter weekend.

The New Year traffic toll estimate by the council was 360 to 540 for the period from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday, Dec. 30 to midnight Monday, Jan. 2.

The relatively low count for the holiday just ended broke the chain of holiday records. Each holiday death toll since that of Memorial Day 1965 has set a record.

Thanksgiving weekend, a four-day, or 102-hour period, brought 748 traffic deaths, a record for any holiday.

DEATH RODE HERE—John Michael Guido, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Alfred Guido, Route 1, Box 245, East Kingston, died last Friday afternoon on Route 213. Town of Esopus, as the Christmas holiday season got underway, in a highway accident that left this station wagon driven by his father totally demolished. The infant became Ulster County's 35th traffic fatality of the year when the car in which he was riding was hit by an automobile operated by George E. Gleason, 28, of Sunset Garden Apartments, Kingston. Coroner William S. Keyser released a verdict of death due to brain hemorrhage as a result of a fractured skull and broken neck in the baby's death. Hospitalized in the same accident were the tiny victim's father, John A. Guido, 24; Gleason, who became a father himself only two weeks earlier and must now face charges of driving while intoxicated; and Carl Prindle, 16, of Ulster Park, a passenger in the Gleason vehicle. Another accident the same day claimed the life of Burton Delamater, 52, of RD 1, Stone Ridge, when his car hit a utility pole on Route 209, Marlinton. Coroner Keyser ruled that death was due to natural causes in this mishap as a result of a coronary thrombosis suffered by Delamater while at the wheel of his car. His death, recorded as the 56th traffic fatality of 1966, tied the year's toll with that for 1965 in the county. (Freeman photo by Wagenföhr)

Hearing on Adopted Plan

Mayone Scores Apport, Hour

John Ray Mayone, of 75 Cedar Street, speaking both as Republican chairman and "as a private citizen" at a hearing today on reapportionment criticized the plan as recently adopted by an 8-5 party-line Common Council vote and held that no hearing on such an important subject should open at 10 a. m.

Only Draws Handful It was conducted by Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan, was held in the Common Council chamber, City Hall and drew a light attendance. Besides Mayone, the mayor and City Clerk Thomas R. Lyle, the others attending were Alderman Edward Norton (D) Seventh Ward, chairman of the council's committee on reapportionment, and Supervisor John C. Sangaline (R) Third Ward.

A copy of Mayone's statement was filed with the city clerk. It said in part: "A public hearing of this importance held at 10 a. m. of a weekday obviously prevents many citizens from attending to express their views. It is a matter of record that similar prior hearings and a considerable amount of criticism. I am afraid the fact that all comment against the time of such hearing was ignored can only lead to the conclusion that those in control of our city government care little for the public sentiment, and/or are anxious to restrict the amount of opinion to be publicly aired for reasons that are rather obvious."

Calls Proceeding 'Sham' A "most ridiculous aspect of the hearing he held, was that the council had already voted to approve a plan. He felt that any opinion at the hearing would not "change anything," and therefore it could be concluded that the proceeding was "a complete sham for all concerned."

Mayone also noted the Dec. 31 deadline for submitting a plan and felt there would not be enough time if important changes were agreed upon. He also proposed that in the future such

Slate Hearing Thursday on City Budget

A public hearing on the 1967 budget is scheduled for the Common Council chamber, City Hall at 7 p. m. Thursday, Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan announced today.

Budget figures were still incomplete today, but the mayor has estimated that the tax rate should be about 47 cents lower than that of this year. If so, it should fix the rate at $70.48 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

This slight cut, he noted recently, is possible despite 18 increased or added sums, which were not in the 1966 budget, and which total $113,675.

It is expected that copies of the new budget are to be available Wednesday.

Name Ex-Area Trooper To Head BCI in Sidney

Superintendent Arthur Cornelius Jr., of the New York Police announced today promotions for two officers in the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, both effective immediately.

Richard E. Boland, Elnora now a lieutenant in the BCI on the Division Headquarters staff at Albany, has been promoted to captain. He is being assigned to head the BCI operation at Troop C Sidney, filling a vacancy created by the recent retirement of Captain Edgar D. Crosswell.

Captain Crosswell, a native of Woodstock and former resident of Kingston, recently accepted an appointment as first inspector general in the New York City Department of Sanitation.

The highlight of Captain Crosswell's distinguished State Police career was when he led a raid on Appalachia in 1957, which resulted in the conviction of 21 underworld figures on various charges. The convictions were later reversed by a higher court.

Captain Boland was assigned to Troop K at Hawthorne on entering the State Police and served in stations at Rhinebeck, Brewster, Buchanan, Middletown, Goldens Bridge, Hyde Park, Fishers Island and Fishkill.

A member of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation since 1957, he was advanced to corporal in 1962, to sergeant later that year, and to senior investigator in 1964. He was assigned to Division Headquarters upon his promotion to lieutenant on May 27, 1965.

Captain Boland is the son of Mrs. Mildred Clement of 56 Valley Road, White Plains, and the late Edward J. Boland, a former trooper. He is married to the former Suzanne Sutton of Clintonville. They live at 4 Bar-Iona Drive, Clifton Knolls, Elnora, with their two children, Bonnie Lee and Richard Jr.

Captain Boland's new salary will be $12,600.

Captain Boland, 35, a member of the State Police since Sept. 16, 1954, is a native of Islip, L. I. He was graduated from White Plains High School and attended the New York State Institute of Applied Arts and Sciences at White Plains and the University of Miami.

The new officer of the BCI joined the Marine Corps in 1948 and was on active duty from Aug. 1950 until Feb. of 1952. He was a patrolman in the White Plains Police Department for a

List State Toll at 36 For 4 Days

Road Crews Busy
Through Holiday

Ulster County's white Christmas, which came in stacks ranging from 11 to 16 inches, caused only slight traffic headaches, although in other parts of the state this slippery blanket helped boost the holiday death count to 36, with 24 of the fatalities listed on the highways.

The two deaths on county roads over the weekend both occurred Friday, before the snowfall began. Of these only one came within the hours officially listed as part of the three-day Christmas weekend, which began at 6 p. m. Friday.

Curbed Accidents According to troopers at the Kingston State Police barracks, the snow itself was cited as the major reason for the lack of serious accidents. Trooper Bentley Thomas said the snow "Managed to keep most of the people who would have been driving indoors instead."

There was, however, one group — the road workers — which stuck to the city and county roads throughout the holiday weekend.

Foreman Floyd DeGraw of the County Highway Department said his crews went to work "right away," and were forced to continue yesterday and this morning when drifts — as deep as five feet — closed off many of the county roads. He said drifting was especially heavy in the Kripplush Road and Briggs Highway areas near Ellenville.

"I think the heaviest snowfall was down around Ellenville . . . snow ranged from 14 to 18 in inches in that area and we were hampered by abandoned cars. Altogether we had 253 dead and some 60 pieces of equipment — including all our plows and sand trucks working on the problem," DeGraw told The Freeman. He said the lightest snowfall apparently was in the Woodstock area, where some 11 inches of snowfall was recorded.

City Crews Worked And in Kingston Charles Cole, superintendent for the Board of Public Works, said his crews weekend was a mirror image of their county counterparts.

"It was extremely heavy and difficult to handle snowfall," Cole explained. "Many of the streets would not sooner be opened than they would drift shut and the men would have to retrace their route. We were especially hampered by parked or abandoned autos."

Cole, stressing the lack of rest for his crews, said snow removal work in the Uptown area began about 9 p. m. Monday, and came to a halt — unfinished — when traffic began picking up today. "We didn't want to make it any more confusing than it already was," he said.

Kept Going The crews today are working on the Albany Avenue and Broadway areas. Cole added, and will resume Uptown removal work tomorrow. "I have to let them get some rest tonight," Cole explained. "Some of my men have been working 16 or 18 hours straight and they can't keep going forever."

Cole also noted that because of the Christmas and New Year holidays, refuse collection will be one day late these two weeks.

Outside Ulster County, heavy snow was also reported although in the Rhinebeck area of Dutchess County State Police said the snowfall measured only "six to eight inches." They said no serious traffic accidents occurred over the weekend.

Leeds State Police, describing their snowfall as "a little better than 16 inches," reported three personal injury mishaps attributed — at least in part — to the heavy snow.

Living Theater To Get Real Test In Los Angeles

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Is Los Angeles ready for living theater? The acid test begins next April, when two sparklingly new playhouses will open for business.

The reputation of Los Angeles as a poor show town seemed to have been confirmed recently with the bankruptcy of one arena-type theater and the shutting down of another. But civic leaders hope to disprove that reputation with the completion of a $35-million "cultural complex" called the "Music Center."

Bears Her Name
First came the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion — named after the fund-raising member of the publishing family — which has offered symphonies, concerts and light opera to capacity audiences for two years.

The Mark Taper Forum, a jewel-like 750-seat theater with a stage that juts into the audience, opens April 9 as the home of the Center Theater Group, which formerly flourished under the auspices of UCLA.

The Ahmanson Theater, also named after a benefactor, will offer "The Man of La Mancha" beginning April 12. Capacity: 2,100.

The hopes for the two new theaters were expressed at a news conference presided over by Lew Wasserman, movie bigwig who is board president of the Center Theater Group. He introduced the group's new director, Elliot Martin, 39-year-old producer of "Never Too Late" and the current Broadway attraction, "Dinner at Eight."

Formula Material
Why should he leave a successful Broadway career to bring theater to this Western outpost? "Because in New York the theater is confined by economics to playing to a certain audience with more or less formula material," the producer explained.

Many times, he added, he found a play of exciting content but couldn't cast it because name players would not sign for the run-of-the-play, which commitment was needed to pay off the investment.

"But Los Angeles offers the opportunity that exists nowhere else but in London," Martin said. "Here we find a vast pool of creative people in films and television. We can offer them the chance to act, direct and write for living theater without committing themselves to a year's contract. They can work in the theater and in films and television at the same time."

Hopes for Stars
Gordon Davidson, 33, artistic director of the Mark Taper Forum, hopes to attract some star names to appear in plays for six-week runs. He announced that the forum would commission new works, the first being "Witnesses," a dramatization by William Murray of the Kitty Genovese murder on the streets of New York in 1964.

Will the new theaters show a profit?
"It is possible, but highly improbable," said Wasserman, who added that a civic campaign is being conducted to raise funds for the expected deficit.

Manchester Is Much Improved

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP) — Author William Manchester was reported "much improved and doing very well" today after his attack of pneumonia. He had received get-well telegrams from Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Both wished a speedy recovery to the 44-year-old author of "The Death of a President," the book they charged in a law suit represented a breach of contract and an invasion of Mrs. Kennedy's privacy.

Manchester's physician, Dr. F. Erwin Tracy, said his patient was improving. His condition was still listed as critical, however.

Tracy described the illness as "a slight touch of pneumonia." Manchester suffered similar symptoms several weeks ago in London, where he was working on a new book, the doctor said. Tracy said Manchester had been working very hard and was under great stress as a result of the furor over his book about the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Cong Terrorists Feel Lethal Opposition From Navy SEALs

By RON ROACH
CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Viet Cong terrorists in Vietnam are running into lethal opposition from the U.S. Navy's Black Berets, an elite group of guerrilla fighters who are the seagoing counterparts of the Army's Green Berets. Called SEALs, because they are transported by sea, air or land, the Black Berets train at the Navy amphibious base here to become experts in unconventional warfare.

"We are using the Viet Cong's hit and run tactics to harass them as much as they harass us," says Capt. Phil H. Bucklew, commander of the Navy's special operations mission.

There are about 200 of the amphibious commandos, all combat veterans of underwater demolition teams.

Experience in diving and the use of explosives is required for assignment to the SEALs, who are trained in jungle survival, hand-to-hand combat and knowledge of weaponry. They also study the languages, politics and religions of the Far East.

Much of the SEAL story is classified information, but Capt. Bucklew says the units have been most effective in carrying the war to the Viet Cong.

Tough and Competent

They are tough and competent men, says Bucklew, adding that "they have to be to survive. A simple cough by one member of a team can ruin an entire mission."

Many SEALs have had 36 months duty in Vietnam, he said, six times the normal tour. Bucklew described the typical mission as "sneaking, slinking, waiting and watching." The teams patrol Vietnam's rivers in rubber rafts or sampans, and set up ambushes to intercept the Viet Cong.

How did the Navy get involved in guerrilla warfare? "About four years ago, President John F. Kennedy asked a meeting of the National Security Council: 'What are we doing to provide counterinsurgency forces?'" Bucklew said.

All Marines Trained

The Army had its special forces, the Air Force its air commandos and the Marine Corps said all its men were being trained in guerrilla warfare.

The Navy said it had SEALs. "Actually," Bucklew said, "SEALs were just on paper and not many knew who had the paper. But it gave us our start."

Bucklew, 52, of Columbus, Ohio, holds the Navy Cross with Gold Star for espionage work during World War II.

Upstate Marines Greeted by Johnson

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two marines from Upstate New York were among the military personnel greeted by President Johnson Saturday on their return from Vietnam.

Among the battle casualties were PFC Kenneth B. Fullerton, 20, of Norwood, N.Y., Fullerton, son of Mrs. Verdis Fullerton, had been wounded in the legs by machinegun bullets. He is assigned to the 25th Marines.

Among the non-casualties was PFC Michael C. Maggiore of Buffalo, N.Y.

Named President Of Shriner's Club In Ulster County

Local stock broker, Rudolph Turk, has been elected president of the Ulster County Shrine Club for 1967.

Others elected were: J. Freeman Lasher, first vice-president; Joseph Flowers, second vice-president; Larry Bogert, secretary; Otto Scherrieble, treasurer and Frank Kolts, Milton Makowsky and Robert Heins, members of the executive committee.

Turk is an account executive with the N. Y. Stock Exchange firm of Hertz, Neumark and Warner, this city.

He joined the Shrine Club in 1964 from local Masonic Lodge No. 10. He presently lives at 430 Pearl Street with his wife Janet, and two boys, Mark, 7 and Brad, 2. Mark is in the second grade at George Washington School.

Born in Kingston, he is the son of Mrs. James Turk and the late James Turk of 28 North Street. He spent four years in the Marine Corps. He has been in the brokerage business 16 years.

Turk has made at least nine trips overseas in the past 10 years. One trip that will always be remembered is up the Nile River from the Pyramids to the great temples of Abut Simbel which is about 900 miles. He has traveled in most Mediterranean and European countries.

During 1966, under President Frank Kolts, the Shrine Club has treated the Emma W. Wygant School to a fun day at the Catskill Game Farm. The club has donated three wheel chairs, one to Kingston Hospital, Benedictine and Ellenville Hospital. Also the club donated $300 to the Shriner's Hospital in Springfield, Mass.

Looking for a top
Guaranteed income
For your savings
For All of 1967?

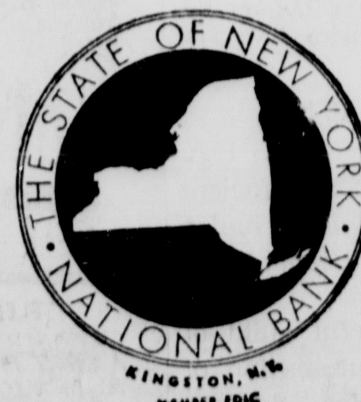

Concerned about the possibility of a "roll back" of interest rates on most types of savings accounts?

Then you should investigate The State of New York National Bank Certificates of Deposit with a top legal 5% interest rate guaranteed in advance for one full year! And, remember, that 5% rate actually returns 5.13% over a year's time through daily compounding of interest.

Nor do you have to tie up your funds for a full year. Contrary to some savings plans, you may withdraw your deposit at the end of any 90 day period and still draw interest at the full 5% rate.

Your Certificate draws full interest from date of deposit to date of maturity, regardless of when in the year either occurs. No loss of interest because it is only credited, as with many savings plans, on the first day of each quarter-year.

Do you think that Certificates of Deposit are only for big savers? They are, at some institutions—but not at The State of New York National Bank with a minimum amount of only $1,000! And your deposit is fully guaranteed by the F.D.I.C. up to $15,000.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, DECEMBER 27, 1966

ROSENDALE'S NEW ENTERPRISE

The Town of Rosendale, once famous for its contributions to the construction industry and the building of this country, again has moved into national prominence.
This time, however, it has to do with survival and the preservation of vital business and governmental records.

Cement caves in the town, which will furnish some two million square feet of impregnable storage space, under 200 feet of solid limestone cover, will be used for the storage of valuable records for industrial firms and governmental agencies in the event of atomic attack, radiation and other types of disaster. The 32-acre underground storehouse, which in part goes deeper than the bed of the Hudson River, also has been envisioned as an alternative seat of government, fire control center and for the protection of valley residents in the event of disaster.

The new ultra-modern top security underground vault project will be the largest in the northeast and millions of dollars will be spent for its conversion. Up to 100 people will be employed.

Century Cement, which leased the cave area, will continue to manufacture cement.
Ulster County is still on the move and we aren't going to stop here. We extend a hearty welcome to the National Storage Company.

The burning and grinding of cement was begun in Rosendale in 1826, immense deposits of cement rock having been found in the town the year before by engineers who were constructing the Delaware & Hudson Canal.

Rosendale cement was used in construction throughout the country and included the Croton Aqueduct. When the industry was at its height, there were over a dozen plants in operation in the town and over 5,000 men were engaged in the work.

The Rosendale quarries proved of inestimable value to the community. We know that this new enterprise will offer greater employment for county residents and help bolster the economy of Rosendale and Ulster County.

SO WHAT? I'M A CUSTOMER!

One of the big attractions at the modern supermarket is something the proprietor doesn't even advertise—the grocery cart.

So irresistible is the lure of this handy gadget that each year almost 1,000,000 supermarket shoppers craftily stow the cart into their car along with the groceries
they have just bought and head for home.
Such mass dishonesty is appalling.

The result is that the grocery cart is fast emerging as the top all-purpose item of the space age.

Outdoor diners have discovered that it makes a wonderful portable charcoal grill.
Service stations use it for battery-testing equipment, and building custodians for hauling cleaning supplies.

Gardeners ingeniously line it with plastic sheeting and have a wheelbarrow. And housewives couldn't get along without it for laundry or as a planter.

Young mothers adore it as a stroller for baby. (Baby likes it, too, because it's nice and shiny.) And if dad is a do-it-yourselfer, he knows nothing can beat it as a mobile tool chest.

Almost everyone, in fact, hails the grocery cart for its versatility except supermarket owners and officials of the Super Market Institute, who ruefully face the fact that that the carts cost $30 or $35 each and that more than $25 million worth of them are pilfered every year.

Some stores are trying to solve the problem by providing boys who cart purchases to the customer's car. Other proprietors may be wondering if it might not be simpler to sell carts and let the customers swipe the groceries.

But, of course, no self-respecting customer would think of doing that. It would be stealing.

A designer predicts that people some day will just wear paint instead of clothes.
The way things are going in the design world, the time's not far off.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE LIONS REMAIN ON OUR SIDE

After talking with the Englishman John Owen, the director of the Tanzania national park system who was recently in the United States on a fundraising expedition to support his East African wild animal sanctuaries, I wrote a column to the effect that the lions were on the Free World's side.
Meaning that if Tanzania were going to make anything out of the lions as a tourist attraction, President Nyerere would have to preserve his ties with countries that permit their citizens to travel and take good foreign exchange abroad.

This observation seems to have bothered Mr.
Owen, who says that President Nyerere will do what he thinks best for his country, even to the extent of keeping an alignment with the "eastern bloc." But the question I raised is one of logic, not of "facts." The lions are still on our side, even though Nyerere could be making a prime mistake by failing to look at things from the lions' point of view. Tourism and Communism must,
in the nature of things, remain incompatible, and if he truly intends to do what is best for his country President Nyerere must eventually come around to this way of thinking.

There is an inherent contradiction between what the Tanzanian representatives say about the United States in the United Nations and what
Mr. Owen was doing in this country on his fundraising expedition to keep the lions and the wild-beasts happy. Not too long ago a Tanzanian stood up at the UN to denounce the United States for planning to establish a park and construct a tourist hotel in Samoa. He suggested there was something sinister in this, arguing that the planned improvements in Samoa would not help the "indigenous inhabitants." Whereupon the U.S. representative rightly called it to Tanzania's attention that mainland Americans were barred from owning land in Samoa and were not permitted to engage in any business activity in which native Samoans did not have major participation.

Tourism, said the American representative, was a significant aspect of economic policy in many areas of the world today, both non-self-governing and independent.

In Kenya, which is just to the north of Tanzania, the government has recognized the fact that the "lions are on the Free World's side." The number of visitors journeying to Kenya, principally from Western Europe and the United States, has tripled since 1960, and Kenya's foreign exchange earnings now come to more than $20 million annually. In partnership with American, British, German, and local Kenyan investors, the International Finance Corporation, an affiliate of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, is helping to develop a $6.7 million tourist project in Kenya. The IFC is putting money into Kenya Hotel Properties Limited, which is establishing an international class hotel in the capital city of Nairobi and developing tourist facilities in the national game preserves. One of the sponsors of Kenya Hotel Properties is Pan American World Airways, through its own Intercontinental Hotels Corporation.

Well, what is good for Kenya would certainly be good for Tanzania. Working arrangements with western development companies are perfectly compatible with local control of projects as long as local interests keep majority representation on the boards.

In this matter of obtaining a maximum of international aid, Tanzania's President Nyerere is evidently impressed with the ability of rulers such as Egypt's Nasser in playing the "eastern bloc" off against the West. It's a good game provided that the balance is more or less evenly held. But the lions know. If they are to remain a national asset, they need flocks of well-heeled amateur photographers traveling in land Rovers over the high East African plains. Such amateurs are only to be found in the Free World.

President Nyerere, who was educated in the Scottish capital of Edinburgh, is reportedly at work translating Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" into Swahili. He is a westerner, not an easterner, by cultural predilection. Only by going against his own best impulses can he let the lions down. Shakespeare's Forest of Arden and Tanzania's Serengeti preserve of the Serengeti must live by the same human commitment to an Open World.

THE WELL CHILD

Anemia Has Various Causes and Treatments

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Your baby triples his birth weight in his first year of life. During this period the various body system do pretty well at keeping in step but in most children the volume of blood falls behind during the first two months of life.

The result is a physiologic anemia which is of no importance because it corrects itself promptly.
The special type of anemia caused by Rh incompatibility occurs before birth and requires early recognition and treatment by massive transfusions.

The commonest cause of anemia in the first two months of life is infection. An infection that would not reduce the blood supply of an adult or an older child may in this period necessitate a transfusion.

A baby is born with a reserve supply of iron which prevents the development of iron-deficiency anemia for his first six months or four months if he was born prematurely. If by that time he is not taking iron-fortified cereals he may show signs of nutritional anemia as pallor, irritability and weakness.

These symptoms do not always mean anemia
so a blood count is necessary to confirm the diagnosis. This condition is readily corrected by supplying iron in the form of eggs, meat, vegetables and fruit and supplementary iron citrate.

One cause of anemia is toddlers that are still seen in the very per is that due to lead poisoning.
It occurs in children who gnaw the paint off their cribs or window ledges, or eat paint that has scaled off the walls. Modern paints for interiors no longer contain lead and, as a result, this type of anemia is becoming less common.

Another form of poisoning that may cause a sudden acute anemia in infants is due to eating pills that contain acetaminophen or phenacetin napthalene moth balls and various other drugs and poisons. Prompt diagnosis and appropriate treatment will save most of these children.

Q—My 11-year-old niece can't sleep well because she is afraid someone might be hiding in her closet. She keeps the light burning all night in her bedroom. What can be done to make her less fearful?

A—It would be helpful to know what led up to this fear. In any case you should not make fun of her fear, show impatience or try to reason her out of it. Down deep she knows as well as you do that her fears are baseless. On the other hand, if she wants to talk about it, encourage her by listening and let her know that you want to understand even though you don't share her fears. In some children this behavior is not a fear of the dark but a desperate cry for more love and attention.

DOWN WITH AUTOMATION

Ours is not the first culture to be concerned about automation. The ancient Mayas in what is now El Salvador had a similar problem, says the National Geographic Society.

It is believed that a powerful guild of porters fought against the automation of their trade by wheeled vehicles. So successful were they that the first European explorers found no evidence that the wheel had ever been invented in the New World.

Back to Normal

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Washington Correspondent

Despite aftermath denials by some Democratic governors, the fact seems to be that their White Sulphur Springs caucus on the 1966 elections was very much concerned with President Johnson's personal image.

One source privy to their closed-door meeting at the West Virginia resort says many of the governors present indicated that unhappiness over his image was a common thread running through their otherwise quite individual complaints.

There was not, of course,
much real company for Gov.
Roger Branigan of Indiana, who suggested the President perhaps should decide not to run in 1968, or Gov. Warren Hearnes of Missouri, who publicly said the party itself might be advised to set him aside if matters did not improve.

Talks with several participants disclosed, however, that the most realistic among them believe that many of their gripes have as their root cause the President's insistence on doing too much himself — and letting go those things he either cannot handle or does not understand.

At least two governors say privately that he has to change materially in this respect if Democratic political mechanisms are to be more effective than they were in 1966.

That he has allowed the Democratic National Committee to atrophy is only part of the story, though much was heard from the governors on this score.
The bigger point is that there is really no effective White House political operation.

Men who know the President well have been saying quietly

for a long time that he personally has given up trying to master the crucial fundamentals of northern Democratic politics. His use of White House aide Marvin Watson of Texas as a political helper seems symbolic of this attitude.

To rebuild the national committee, as the President is said to have promised, could be a very limited gain unless he also beefs up his personal political deal of the authority he has kept tightly in his own grasp.

Says one governor not unsympathetic to him in his current plight:
"He needs to develop a delegation philosophy. The way he operates now has serious political side-effects."

The unvarnished truth is that Johnson has only one knowledgeable political ambassador to northern politicians — Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien.
But the view is that O'Brien, as a cabinet member and still a top congressional liaison man, simply wears too many hats to be able to put his political talents to full use.

Many Democratic governors — and other top party figures — are tired of having Johnson's political plans (or changes therein) sprung on them at the last minute. They are equally weary of having no good White House listening post, no useful presidential guidance, no clear, unwavering sign of presidential interest in their problems.

The way the critical governors see it, Johnson's close-to-the-vest political methods imperil both their future prospects and his own chances of re-election in 1968.

Their outburst at White Sulphur Springs was unique in recent political history. It suggested depth of feeling which later backtracking by some governors could not paper over.

That they chose to meet at all in the glare of a general governor's conference was a gauge of frustration. With perfunctory national committee meetings held only once a year, party figures have had no real way to talk out their common problems.

They seized their chance at White Sulphur Springs. And their real message to Lyndon Johnson was to change himself, not just the national committee or the workings of Great Society programs.

The late sun stood still in the sky behind the great temple of Jerusalem. The young man leading the donkey glanced at it, and knew that he would have light for one more hour. He wiped the alkali dust from his mouth and without turning,
asked his wife to be patient.

Bethlehem was five miles south, and Joseph led the animal and the young girl down the slopes of the Valley of the Cedron, past the hill at Haecl-dama, and up the narrow rocky road that climbed the side of the green valley. As he strode, with the rope bridle in hand, leaning forward, the carpenter could see the shepherds below and could hear the faint echoes of the whistle that summoned the sheep.

Across the valley one could see the far hill and the flat blue of the Dead Sea. Beyond it stood the dry bones of old mountains, where Moses died bringing the law to the Twelve Tribes of Israel. Joseph had seen none of this before. At 14, he had been apprenticed to a carpenter in Nazareth.

He had completed his five years. At the age of 19, he had all the responsibilities of a man.
He had his own shop and living quarters in a limestone cave on a hill in Nazareth; his wife, called Miriam in Aramaic, was 15. There was a baby about to be born, and it was not his. The Roman procurator had ordered all Jews to the town of their family to be counted.

Joseph of the family of David,
had to leave Nazareth in the Winter Solstice of the year 3790 and walk south a hundred miles to Bethlehem. The road along the tawny Jordan was laden with families in transit to other towns.
They understood why they had to be counted. Neither the Romans nor King Herod felt that the Jews were paying their taxes.
Ordering them to the settlements of their forefathers was a stroke of genius. In this way, all the heads could be counted accurately. Would Joseph of Nazareth be counted as two, or three? He did not know. The baby was about to be born. An angel had told Miriam that this was to be a special and sacred child. The carpenter had thought of denouncing his betrothed until in a dream, another angel told him that her story was true;
the young girl, without stain,
was carrying within her the King of Kings.

Bethlehem is like a ship's bow, coming to a point over a valley. Night blotted the last golden rays as the young man led the donkey to the inn. It was small and square, a cube overlooking the countryside. It was full of Jews of the House of David, waiting to be counted.
They slept on the floor and against the walls of the common room.

Joseph explained his problem,
but the proprietor said that there was no room anywhere. The only privacy in Bethlehem would be in the animal cave carved below the inn. There were two paths, one on each side of the hill, leading to this place. There, the camels and donkeys of merchants dozed on tethers.

The carpenter led his bride

Problem Of State-Federal Cooperation A Knotty One

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — There is more involved than mere politics in President Johnson's conference with nine Democratic governors at Austin, Texas. The Republican governors, moreover, have also just gotten together and formed an association with headquarters in Washington.

What is indicated is an approaching showdown in the relations between the federal government and the states of the union.
They can no longer work at cross-purposes without producing widespread discontent and dissatisfaction. The time has arrived for co-operation between the states and the federal government, but nobody has yet produced a formula that the political partisans are willing to accept.

Obviously the federal government cannot do the whole job of building a better life for the peoples of all states, irrespective of whether their own taxpayers in each case can foot the bill.
Nor has the problem of effective administration been solved.

If the governors of the states as well as congressmen look upon federal money as a political "Pork barrel," more and more protests from the electorate can be expected. Already the big-city bosses have become em-meshed in the anti-poverty programs, and local politicians have been demanding larger sums of money from Washington.

Must Agree First

President Johnson in a single day's conference could by no means tackle the knotty questions that have emerged. The Republican governors, by establishing a "task force" in Washington, may be able to present some constructive proposals of their own. But real progress will not be made until there is agreement as to what the states should do and what the federal government should supply by way of funds or personnel in the various programs.

Within the past few years,
the national government has by the withholding of funds, undertaken to discipline the states for failing to "desegregate" public schools. Quite a hassle is going on currently as to whether an executive department in Washington can operate virtually a blackmail system and deny funds to local agencies unless the bureaucratic ideas of federal officials on various subjects are accepted.

With the enormous growth of population in the United States, the problems of urban development, new transit systems, better schools and the training of manpower have come to the fore.
Many billions of dollars, it is now being estimated, will be required for such projects.

One of the most interesting suggestions being made by economists is that the federal government should return to the states a large percentage of federal taxes to be used in making needed reforms. But the real difficulty is that no administrative machinery has as yet been devised for federal co-operation with state and city governments.
This is directly related to the amount of taxpayers' money to be turned over to the states or to be retained by the federal government. Much depends in turn upon the kind of projects which will be administered locally and those for which the federal government will have to be primarily responsible.

Prospect Is Tempting

All sorts of complaints already are heard about squabbles among local government officials. The prospect of billions of dollars being spent in any area is enough to tempt the politicians to insist upon a substantial share of the money and the handling of it for their own localities. Some agency of government will have to decide priorities. Many persons believe the task is one that will never be carried out to the satisfaction of either the states or the federal government as long as political pressures prevail.

Political influences are inevitable, however, as long as discretionary powers are written into the laws. Some new administrative arrangements under a decentralized or regional system will have to be developed and explicitly defined in each program. For there is no longer a sharp line of separation in practice between federal powers and states' rights. A constitutional amendment may be needed, necessary because today
the federal government is supposed to exercise only the powers specifically delegated to it or those explicitly prohibited to the states. All other rights and powers are reserved to the states or to the people.

She did not complain. Nor was it seemly to explain to her husband the lightning creases of pain that brought fear to her face. The night was deep when Joseph gathered wood and built a small fire outside the entrance to the cave. A jug of water was placed near it. Inside, he found a slatted feed trough and lined it with clean straw.

He laid a gentle hand on Miriam's shoulder and withdrew.
In this hour he was helpless and she was alone. Outside, he crouched beside the fire, moving the burning branches toward the center. The silence inside worried him, and he knew that this was his hour too.

It was late when he heard the first small wail. At once he hurried inside with the jug and Miriam, her face lined with fatigue and the dust of many hills, bathed her man-child in the warm water, wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and placed him in the slatted manger.

The young man stared down at the infant, red and squirming,
the features contorting in sleep.
With wonderment, he looked and then he went outside into the night.

He was surprised to find that a great blue-white star, a gem of radiance, was emerging from Far below, the dozing shepherds awakened in fear when they heard the voice of an angel crying: "I bring you good news of great joy which is in store for the whole nation."

They trembled. So did Joseph, crouching beside the dying fire.
"A saviour," the angel said, "who is the Lord Messiah, was born to you today in David's town. And this will serve you as a token:
you will find an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and cradled in a manger."

Suddenly a heavenly chorus sang: "Glory to God in the heavens above, and on earth peace to men of good will." The great star traced a narrow band of light into the cave.

Business Mirror Reflections

Inflation Unpleasant Whatever the Category

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — If the economy continues to slow, will that mean inflation might disappear also? Not necessarily. But the type of inflation might change.

There is no good news in such a statement for the difference in the types of inflation is something like the difference between mean and nasty. Inflation simply is an unpleasant symptom.

Other Elements Appearing
Inflationary imbalances in this year's economy seem to have resulted mostly from demand. That is, the enormous desire of consumer and producer to buy and build was greater than the economy's ability to supply.

Oversimplified, this demand was so much greater than supply that it pulled up the prices of goods. Economists call this demand-pull inflation.

Now, however, elements of cost-push inflation are appearing. In this type, the high cost of producing goods pushes up the price of finished products. These costs might result from more expensive labor or material or because of inefficient plants.

Involved in the reasoning of the cost-push analysts are statistics showing a steady rise this year in median wage increases signed in many industries. Being in short, supply, the price of labor was bid up.

Wage increases in major contracts this year averaged about 3.5 to 3.8 per cent. In 1963, when the booming economy was in better balance, the average was 2.3 per cent. It rose to 3 per cent in 1964 and to 3.3 per cent last year.

Many manufacturers claimed productivity in their factories was coming at a greater and greater cost.

Different Directions
Gains in productivity, or output per man hour, would result in relative stability if wage increases were kept roughly to the same amount. The two factors, instead, headed in different directions: wages rose but some industries claimed their productivity didn't.

This factor could, to a degree, be self-correcting in 1967. Many of this year's new plants will be working more efficiently next year. And many of this year's unskilled workers will have become efficient, capable and productive.

In addition, the pressure of demand-pull inflation from the consumer area definitely will be down. Consumers learned a lot in 1966 and they began cutting their spending plans.

Demand from other areas of the economy still are great, however, especially in the national defense area. Demand-pull inflation, then, is still part of the picture and will be well into 1967.

With the economy operating near its peak, the management of this mixture becomes a very sensitive job. Hasty action might lead to over-reaction. Inaction might let a ripple become a wave.

The balance will be maintained or disrupted next year by the fiscal decisions — how much to spend and where, how much to tax or perhaps not to tax — now being wrestled with in Washington by the administration's money men.

The job was a tough one in 1966 and some critics maintain the balance of the nation's economy was lost by not raising taxes early in the year. The decisions next year will be even tougher and the consequences at least as great.

Resigns DA Post

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Edward F. Gerber, a 34-year-old lawyer who reportedly was to have become Onondaga County district attorney Jan. 1, has resigned his post as assistant district attorney.

Gerber said Monday he was leaving the assistant's job for reasons of "health" and "personal considerations." He said he was withdrawing his name from consideration as district attorney.

Onondaga County Executive

John Mulroy announced last week he would appoint Gerber to replace Dist. Atty. Francis J. Moran, who will become a Supreme Court Justice, Jan. 1. Mulroy, Gerber and Moran are Republicans. Gerber has been in the district attorney's office three years.

Gerber successfully prosecuted Joel Singer of Montreal, who was found guilty last week of burglary and grand larceny in a $400,000 theft at a Brink's Co. office here.

Mapping '67-'68 Ratings Prove More Helpful Than Crystal Ball

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Once network television gets past the New Year parades and football games, it will present viewers with almost a dozen new shows to sample and a lot of schedule changes. The so-called "second season" starts around Jan. 9.

But for those network executives who decide what we shall see and when we shall see it, the 1966-67 television season is already history, and not very happy history at that. They are now concentrating on the programs and schedules for next September.

Mum Is the Word

CBS hopes to have its entire 1967-68 schedule "locked in" by Washington's Birthday, and NBC and ABC cannot afford to be far behind. For competitive and sales reasons, all three are trying to keep their plans and programs a secret.

Already, we know a few shows that will be arriving nine months hence — NBC's new Danny Thomas series and CBS' Carol Burnett comedy programs. There will be about 25 more when fall rolls around — fewer than usual because those two-hour movie reruns take up a lot of time.

The one thing that makes television programming an expensive gamble is that a few men must try to guess now what viewers will be interested in watching months ahead — and viewers are notoriously fickle.

High Stakes Game

In this high stakes game, with millions of dollars in development money invested, the Nielsen ratings are more helpful than a crystal ball. Currently the Nielsen numbers indicate that we want more situation comedy and outdoor adventure. A couple of seasons ago, situation comedy was as out of fashion as Congress gaiters.

There has been a marked lack of interest in the most recent vitch of the Western theme. Several shows that tried to get away from the classic type of how failed to make much of a splash — "Shane," "The Road to Nowhere," and "The Monroes."

Although outdoor programs like "Rat Patrol," "Tarzan" and "Daktari" seem to be attracting big audiences, it is the oldtimers of television who are sitting comfortably on the top of the Nielsen list. That means Red Skelton, Lucille Ball, Andy Griffith, Jackie Gleason and Ed Sullivan and the Walt Disney programs.

Bank Accounts Up in November By $276 Million

Assets in the 126 savings banks of New York State increased by $276,556,000 during November, the Savings Banks Association of New York State announced today. The November increase is $108 million greater than that during October, and $38.2 million more than the November 1965 increase.

Total assets are now $35,464,489,000, an increase of 3.04 per cent during the year ending November 30, 1966. This compares with an increase of 7.48 per cent for the same period in 1965.

Real estate mortgage holdings were increased by $169,076,000 during November. Total mortgage holdings now stand at $28,684,900,000, which represents a 6.19 per cent increase during the year ending November 30, 1966.

Investment in "other bonds, notes and debentures" was increased by $23,534,000 during November, while investment in corporate stocks increased by $5,056,000. "Cash and due from banks" was reduced by $4,542,000, investment in U.S. Government securities increased by $1,170,000 and the "all other assets" category was increased by $82,262,000.

Hopes Response Will Come Locally For Florentines

As part of the special Advent program at the Methodist Church Wesley Foundation, 1127 University Avenue, Madison, Wis., an exhibit of original charcoal drawings by Linda Montano is now being shown. Miss Montano, art instructor at Edgewood College, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Montano, 9 John Street, Saugerties.

The Midwest exhibit includes her series of approximately 20 sketches, which are currently attracting the public in the "Club 1127" at Wesley Foundation. The program will run through Jan. 6.

Miss Montano, who has a master's degree from Pius XII Institute in Florence, Italy, has dedicated her first showing in Madison as a "tribute to Chris, my sister, and her unborn baby."

Now home for the holidays, she also appealed to friends and all interested persons to contribute donations to The Artisan's Fund of the Florence Institute, of which she is a graduate. She noted that all those who are in sympathy with the sufferings of the Florentine people, on whom recent torrential floods wrought much havoc and destroyed many art masterpieces which had been kept for generations as a heritage for the entire world, might like to help them in their plight.

Lost in Mud Sea

Thousands upon thousands of homes and shops were destroyed there—leveled into a sea of mud. Art students at the American graduate school of Pius XII Institute, Florence, hope to help restore the charm of the city and reestablish families and businesses. In order to do so, they are appealing to the American public for donations.

Miss Montano says that, for each donation of $100 to The Artisan's Fund sent to the Pius XII Institute, Via Bocaccio, 123, Florence, Italy, individually or as a group, the contributor will be sent two of the best student woodcuts of the year, one color woodcut by Sister Giotto, O.P., the gold medal winner for the International Caccia Show 1964 and 100 Christmas cards with a Madonna and Child masterpiece for 1967. Personal accounting for money sent will be given by students of the Institute.

Miss Montano feels that such a group or individual donation from the Saugerties community, church groups, or other Ulster County organizations would be one of the most worthwhile undertakings of this or any other year. For more information on the project or quality of the school or the woodcuts, call Miss Montano at her home.

SHS Team Earns Berth on Finals In TV Program

A team of varsity scholars from Saugerties High School bested their opponents by a score of better than 2-1 on the Little Red Schoolhouse television quiz program last week to earn a chance to compete in the final championship meet. The local team showed its brilliance in scholastic matters by beating a quartet from Williams High School, Stockbridge, Mass., by a 230 to 80 point tally.

This qualified the 10 o'clock scholars from Saugerties to try for the grand championship of the program. They had appeared in last week's meet as the result of having won three times previously on the program. Earlier this year, in rapid succession, the local group, captained by senior Christine Harder, appeared before Channel 6 cameras to defeat teams from Philip Schuyler High School of Albany, South Glens Falls-Central School and Bishop Gibbons High School.

In addition to Miss Harder, other team members are Christine Francello, junior, and Reed Fuller and Eva Graham, both seniors. After the first three contests, the team retired as undefeated champions since program rules do not allow any one team to appear more than three times. However, they became eligible to compete in the play-offs—a tribute to their coach, Miss Helene Napoletano, English teacher in the high school. How facile they are at the quick recall of facts was evident in their winning of the play-off.

Another play-off winner will be selected by the program in early January at its next session, which means that the winner of that match will meet the Saugerties team, probably on Jan. 16, for the grand championship.

Anna Rice Dies, Ex-YWCA Worker

FULTON, N.Y. (AP) — Funeral services will be held here Thursday for Miss Anna V. Rice, a former general secretary of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association, who died here Saturday.

Miss Rice, 86, moved to this city north of Syracuse when she retired from YWCA work in 1940.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Syracuse University, Miss Rice also studied at Hartford Theological Seminary, Union Theological Seminary and Cambridge University.

She began her career with the YWCA in Detroit, Mich., in 1913 and became the organization's general secretary in 1930.

Survivors include a sister and brother.

To Become Dean

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Very Rev. Peter Remoundos, pastor of the Greek Orthodox Church of the Annunciation here, says he will become dean of the St. Constantine and Helen Cathedral in Detroit on Feb. 1.

Father Remoundos, 39, told his congregation Sunday he was assigned by Archbishop Iakovos, primate of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America.

The priest will head the Detroit diocese's department of finance and special projects, the latter including establishment of a diocesan newspaper, a senior citizens' center and the nation's first adoption and maternity center for Orthodox Christians.

Father Remoundos came to the U.S. from Greece in 1946 and was graduated from Holy Cross Orthodox Seminary, Brookline, Mass., in 1949.

He served as pastor of the Greek Orthodox Church of St. George, Albuquerque, N.M., before coming to Rochester in 1954.

A successor to him at the Rochester church has not been named.

Sees Navy With Acute Problem of Personnel Lack

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Vietnam war, says a military writer, has led to the stripping of some Navy ships to the point where it would be impossible — if a crisis developed suddenly — to man them quickly with a wartime complement.

The Navy's personnel shortage is most acute in the Atlantic Fleet's antisubmarine forces, says Jack Kestner of the Norfolk Ledger-Star.

In an article Monday, he pointed out there are three personnel levels aboard fighting ships—their complement, or the number with which they go to war; their allowance, the normal peacetime allotment; and their manning level, the minimum required to keep them operational.

"Many ships of the Atlantic Fleet, particularly those in the antisubmarine warfare force, are not operating at this minimum," Kestner wrote.

The Atlantic Fleet's antisubmarine warfare commander, Vice Adm. Charles E. Weakly, is "well aware of this, but decisions that have resulted in his force's current status were made at a much higher level," the writer said.

The Navy in Washington declined comment.

Author, Critic, TV Moderator, Dies at Sharon

NEW YORK (AP) — Virginia Peterson, author, critic and former moderator of the "The Author Meets the Critics" television program, died Saturday in Sharon, Conn., at the age of 62. Miss Peterson had reviewed books for the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune as well as serving as moderator of the much-acclaimed television panel show for three years. Attractive and articulate, she was born in 1904 in New York City and attended Vassar College before going to Europe to study. After a first marriage which ended in divorce, she married Prince Paul Sapieha of Poland in 1933. She lived for six years on the prince's estate. Miss Peterson married C. Gouverneur Paulding, a magazine editor in 1950 after her divorce from the prince. Paulding died last August.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to leave the hospital this afternoon following his Dec. 12 gall bladder operation.

Bill Pre-Filed To Relieve State Nurse Shortage

NEW YORK (AP) — State Sen. Norman F. Lent, Nassau County Republican, said Monday he has pre-filed a bill in the Legislature designed to relieve what he called the state's "critical and dangerous" shortage of nurses.

Lent, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on the Problems of Public Health and Medicare, said he was "shocked" by testimony given at the committee's public hearings last September. Testimony revealed that 10,000 registered nurses were needed to bring medical facilities up to minimum standards of care, and 25,000 were needed to provide "really efficient and safe care" in the state, he said.

The committee hearings showed shortages "ranging up to 70 per cent of the nursing staffs in the New York City municipal hospitals," according to Lent.

The Lent bill would establish a "nurse manpower center" in the State Department of Health, which would maintain a central registry of nurse resources. The "nurse manpower center" would make recommendations to nurse service organizations, hospitals and similar groups on problems relative to personnel, recruitment, training and conditions of employment and salary. It would also report on shortages and improper utilization of nursing services.

20 Young Men Are In Armed Forces From Community

WELLS, N.Y. (AP) — The holiday season will be quieter than usual in this small Adirondack community this year.

Wells, population less than 600, has 20 of its young men in uniform serving with branches of the armed forces throughout the world. Three of them are in Vietnam.

The absence of young men also is felt in the nearby hamlet of Hope, which lists among its 50 citizens four servicemen. The loss represents a virtual generation of young men for the two communities.

Only a handful of draft-age men remain in Wells, and each of them has undergone pre-induction examinations and is anticipating an induction notice. A few young men are continuing their education with college deferments.

A bronze-and-marble honor roll at the community hall grounds lists the names of 22 men who went off to Europe in World War I Bronze stars on the monument designate the five young men who died in World War II in which 98 Wells residents served their country.

Most of these now in uniform volunteered, or became career servicemen after being drafted. A few—like Army Pvt. Kenneth Sherwood, who was inducted Nov. 28—were drafted.

News from Vietnam is a constant reminder for Wells that its young men are there and that more are likely to go, but townspeople seldom discuss the war.

One who is constantly aware of the servicemen is Frank J. Belmont, supervising principal of Wells Central School and for 14 years its athletic director. Belmont said he receives a flow of letters from Wells' military personnel, seeking news about the area and asking for encouragement.

Home town contact is maintained with all of the servicemen by members of the Wells American Legion post and auxiliary, which annually sends them

Christmas cards. This year, packages also were sent to the three in Vietnam—Marine Corps Pfc. Robert Simons, Air Force Staff Sgt. William Stuart, and Navy Seaman John Reek. The auxiliary, in cooperation with the Gloversville Leader-Herald, sends daily newspapers to Wells men in Vietnam.

Suggest Resolve To Shield Youth From Heart Risks

"Resolve, that in 1967 I will take precautions to reduce my children's risk of heart attack in their adult years."

This resolution was proposed for the New Year today by the Mid-Hudson Heart Association, which pointed out proper heart and health habits formed early in life can make the difference between a high or low risk of heart attack in middle age.

All parents were asked to cooperate in a risk-reducing regime by taking these specific steps:

Get Facts, Check-Ups

Get the basic facts about heart disease from the Mid-Hudson Heart Association and pass them on to your children.

Take your children to see the doctor regularly, promoting the idea of periodic physical examinations.

Help your children form good diet habits. Serve less saturated fat and substitute unsaturated fat wherever possible. Serve fewer cholesterol-rich foods. These are important safeguards against hardening of the arteries (atherosclerosis), which sets the stage for heart attack.

Discourage overeating and don't push "seconds." Remember, the most stubborn cases of obesity are those established in childhood. Obesity raises the adult's chance of getting high blood pressure and diabetes—both heart attack risk factors.

Encourage Fitness

Encourage youngsters to keep physically fit by participating in active sports and other forms of regular exercise.

Teach them that smoking cigarettes is bad for their health, and show that you mean it by not smoking yourself. Cigarette smokers run twice the risk of non-smokers of having a heart attack.

While applying these safeguards for their children's health, the Heart Association said, parents will profit by reducing their own risk as well.

The Association noted that although no hard and fast guarantees can be made to any individual, one's chances are improved statistically when any or all of the factors conducive to heart attacks are minimized.

To Use Living Bacteria, Crude Oil for New Food

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —

Promising prospects for a major new protein food made by mixing living bacteria with crude oil products were reported by scientists today.

A team working on the project said it could be a significant food source for developing countries which might be competitive in price with skim milk powder.

Notes Others

For folks who could be squeamish about eating food derived with the help of bacteria, the researchers pointed to yogurt, vinegar, cheese, sauerkraut, cured meats, soy sauce and other foods already in this category.

Living yeasts might also be used instead of the bacteria in producing the protein, Dr. John G. McNab of the Esso Research and Engineering Co., New York, and Prof. Louis R. Rey of Nestle Alimentana, South America, said in a report prepared for the 133rd meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Introduce Crude Oil

With yeast or bacteria, the living micro-organisms would, in effect, be weaned on, and caused to multiply, by feeding them high-quality hydrocarbons derived from the distillation of crude petroleum oil.

Out of this brew, featuring a constant fermentation process, would eventually come a dried, powdery protein substance called single cell protein.

Special heat treatment prior to final processing would be designed to kill all bacteria or yeast organisms after their job was done.

McNab and Rey said that a number of technical and economic problems remain to be solved but "we are confident that all of these problems can be solved and that single cell protein can represent a major new source of protein," possibly within the next decade.

300 Die in Border Clash

TEIXEIRA DE SOUSA, Angola (AP) — More than 300 of a 500-man rebel force were killed Christmas Day when they crossed from the Congo — Kinshasa — and attacked this town on Angola's eastern border. Portuguese military authorities said today.

Portugal closed the Angola-Congo border this month after rebels killed 25 soldiers in an ambush near the frontier.

This town of fewer than 1,000 persons is a main stop on the British-owned Benguela railway over which the Congo exports more than 70 per cent of its copper ore. Portuguese authorities have threatened to halt the ore movement in reprisal for raids by rebels who hit and run back across the border.

Will Take Oath Twice

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller will take his third-term oath of office twice—at a private ceremony Friday in New York City and on Jan. 2 at the traditional inaugural in Albany.

Rockefeller aides said the first ceremony would be held at noon in the governor's Manhattan office.

Wilson Plans Shuffle

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson intends to reshuffle his Cabinet early in 1967 to eliminate some dead wood and promote some of the Labor party's young men, reliable informants said tonight.

Wilson's aim is to refurbish his government's image of dynamic youth; retired the tired and aging, and build a solid team that will last to the next national elections in 1969.

Foot-care on Medicaid

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Podiatry Society has lined up behind the state's controversial Medicaid program and plans to publicize benefits available to pay medical bills for persons deemed in need. Dr. Richard Breaud of Schenectady, president of the northeastern division of the society, said Tuesday the group planned a drive to teach the "blue-collar" worker about foot-care and also would focus on treatment of children's foot ailments. When the state-aid program went into effect last April, physicians and others opposed the plan. They maintained that benefits were too liberal and fees were too low.

T. L. Kerney Dies, Ex-N. J. Publisher

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Death has come at the age of 65 to Thomas L. Kerney, former publisher and general manager of the Trenton Times News-Examiner of New Jersey. Kerney had been ailing for some time but death was sudden Sunday at the Rochester home of a niece with whom he was visiting, a spokesman for the Times News-Examiner said. The Trenton Times News-Examiner publishes The Evening Times and The Sunday Times-Advertiser.

Survivors include two brothers, James Jr., the present publisher, and John and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Kerney Kuser, board chairman - treasurer, and Mrs. Peggy McNeil, president.

A new and exclusive Blue Cross benefit

Now you can qualify for blood in unlimited amounts whenever you or someone in your family needs a transfusion.

This new benefit, developed in cooperation with the Community Blood Council, is a Blue Cross exclusive—no other health plan has anything like it!

Here's how it works: A small percentage of the members of any company, union or other Blue Cross group donates blood through an acceptable Blue Cross Blood Program.

This automatically establishes credit for unlimited amounts of replacement blood for all members of the group and their families. Since the average transfusion requires three to four pints, and major surgery can run to 20, 30, or more, this can be a substantial saving.

Almost 200,000 New York City employees . . . policemen, firemen, public school teachers . . . have already signed up for this new blood benefit.

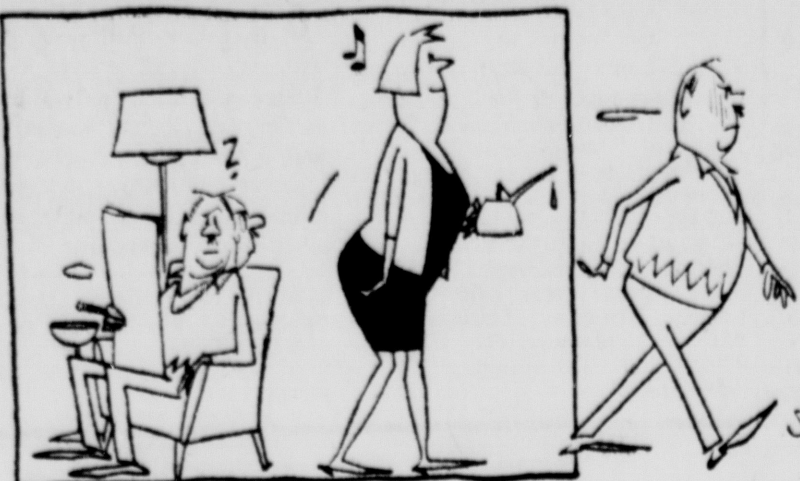

Many other large and small groups, as well as direct-payment Blue Cross subscribers, have also established eligibility for themselves and their families.

For information on how your company, union or other group can qualify for this new life-saving benefit, see your Blue Cross representative. Or write today to: Blue Cross, 80 Lexington Ave., New York 10016. Or phone MUrray Hill 9-2800.

A little old woman was consulting a nurseryman about a problem spot in her yard.

Mrs. Gray — What would you suggest, for a spot that is hard-packed clay located in a heavy run-off of water from the next yard and get little or no sun.

Mr. Long (the nurseryman) — Lady, how would you like a nice flagpole?

You Can't Win

This highly will-powered friend of ours gave up cigarettes and took up toothpicks. Now he's got the Dutch Elm disease.

One fault can neutralize many attributes.

Sorrowfully, the little boy looked up and down the street, then said to the policeman on the corner.

Little Jimmy—Sir, did you see a lady go by without me?

Jack (the teenager)— Thirty-five hamburgers, please.

Mr. Jones (the counterman) — How many?

Jack (the teenager)— Thirty-five. But don't worry. I'm not going to eat them all myself. I have four friends waiting outside.

Bits of Wisdom

The wrong way to exercise: Jumping to conclusions, running

Why We Say--

FROM SCOTLAND: When someone is in jail, they might be referred to as "in the jug." In Scotland the "jug" was an iron yoke put around prisoners' neck when they were exhibited as part of their punishment. When prisons were built of stone, they were known as "stone jugs" and now just as jugs.

down friends, pushing your luck.

Mr. and Mrs. were sitting in their boat, their lines in the water, when he suggested a bet as to who would catch the first fish. She accepted, and it was not long until she got a bite.

In attempting to pull in what appeared to be a big one, she got so excited she fell out of the boat.

"Oh, well, said the husband, "If you're going to dive for them, the bet's off."

Mrs. Cobb — Doctor, what should a woman take when she is run down?

Doctor Keys—The license number, madame, the license number.

The word "economize" loses its meaning after you spend your last dollar.

Hints from Heloise

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Heloise:

After many years of pinching pennies and making do, we finally retired and bought our dream home.

The floors throughout the house are beautiful and I want to keep them that way; so I am writing to you for any suggestions, or any dos and don'ts in caring for them.

Any advice you can give me will be deeply appreciated.

Mrs. R. C. Andrews

Dear Mrs. Andrews:

First of all, I believe that floors should be dusted daily (either with a dust mop or a vacuum cleaner) so that tracked-in dirt or grit is not ground into the floors.

"I'm not going so far as to say that you should dust under the couch, bed, etc., EVERY day. (That's carrying a good thing too far!) I do think the bare areas where there is the most traffic, should be dusted every day.

And, here's a little secret I learned:

If you spray your dust mop with just a little bit of air freshener, it will dampen the mop so dust and lint will be easy to pick up.

If you use a non-scut, self-shining wax, the floors should be reaxed when they become dull. If you use a type of wax which requires buffing, reax when the floors no longer shine when you buff them.

Naturally, any spills on the kitchen floor should be wiped up immediately. Use a damp sponge or cloth (wiping with a dry cloth or dry paper towel may leave a dull spot on some waxes) and wipe up the spill gently—don't rub. Then let it dry—don't wipe it dry.

Also, here are two very important cautions on caring for the floors:

Don't ever try to combine leftovers from cans of self-polishing waxes. Different manufacturers use different formulas. Even the same brand changes from time to time as the manufacturers make improvements.

Another thing . . . if you pour your wax into a flat container in order to dip an applicator or rag into it, DON'T pour that leftover wax back into its original container.

Dirt from applicator or cloth may be in the leftover wax in the pan, so you won't get the best results with it next time.

I hope the above will answer some of the questions you might have.

Congratulations on both your retirement and your new home. May you enjoy them both.

Unseating of Powell Is Not Expected; Would Be Unusual

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's pride appears to be in greater danger than his seat in Congress from the challenge being readied to bar him from the House when Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Even if he is denied the right to be sworn in with his 434 colleagues — as seems most likely — there is almost no chance he will actually be excluded from membership at that time and his Harlem district declared vacant.

Pre-Civil War

Not since the Civil War, when three border state representatives were expelled for treason, has a member been kicked out of Congress. In 1900 a polygamous member-elect from Utah was denied a seat and in 1919 a member charged with favoring Germany in World War I was excluded, but eventually seated when his district twice re-elected him. And that is about the extent to which Congress has used its power to judge the fitness of its members.

What is expected to happen Jan. 10 is that Powell will be asked to stand aside until a special committee investigates the case against him and makes a recommendation. That's what was done in the case of the much-married Mormon, and Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., who plans to make the Jan. 10 challenge, says he is thinking of following the same course.

Could Take 6 Months

It could take six months or a year for such a committee to complete its work. Meantime Powell would be legally a member of the 90th Congress, entitled to his $30,000-a-year salary, his office staff and his free mailing privileges.

All he would lose is his right to vote.

If the committee should recommend that Powell be barred, approval by the House would cut off his salary and vacate his seat. But by that time Powell may have purged himself of the contempt of court in New York that is largely responsible for his current difficulties.

Because history, tradition and precedent all tend to blunt the effectiveness of the challenge to Powell's seat, some of his opponents also plan to try to take away his chairmanship of the Education and Labor Committee.

Need Majority

This could be accomplished by a majority of the Democratic members at their caucus Jan. 9. Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., who led the fight to reduce Powell's powers as chairman last session, is planning the strategy for having him ousted.

A major weapon in the move will be the forthcoming report of a House Administration subcommittee that investigated the payroll and travel expenditures of Powell's committee and found that somewhere between 75 and 100 airline trips, paid for as official trips by staff members, were taken by someone else.

Powell's preference for lolling in the sun in the Bahamas instead of facing the subcommittee's questioning will be used to support the charge that he is unfit to continue as chairman.

Precedent is also against deposing committee chairmen, and the success of this effort, as well as that of the seating challenge, lies almost entirely with Speaker John W. McCormack. Although the speaker has kept out of the fight up until now, his past record of kindness and compassion toward erring members and his love of the House and its traditions would indicate he will seek the softest possible solution for the Powell problem.

Asks Temporary Help to Clear Gotham Snow

NEW YORK (AP) — City Sanitation Commissioner Samuel J. Kearing Jr. has issued a call for 700 truck drivers with their own trucks and 1,000 able-bodied snow shovelers to help remove the remnants of Saturday's storm.

Kearing issued the call Monday night for temporary help to supplement the work of his own 6,000-man snow removal force to resume the collection of household refuse which was suspended Saturday and not scheduled over the holiday.

The temporary truck drivers will be paid $2.18 an hour and the shovelers $2 an hour.

Burial on Strip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nicholas Andrea (Nick the Greek) Dandolos, king of the high-rolling gamblers, will be buried in the city where he did most of his gambling — Las Vegas, Nev.

A spokesman for Edward Bros. Colonial Mortuary said Dandolos will be buried Thursday at Las Vegas' Woodlawn Cemetery.

He died Sunday at Mt. Sinai Hospital, after developing complications from a heart attack suffered earlier this month. His age was listed as 85.

Radio Official Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Elliot A. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager of Radio Station WIBX, Utica, died here Monday.

Stewart, about 60, had been spending the holidays here. He became ill while in a taxi en route to an opera and was pronounced dead at St. John's Hospital, Queens.

Stewart had been secretary of the New York State Broadcasters' Association since it was founded in 1955.

Man Crushed to Death

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A man was crushed to death today between his automobile and a guard rail in suburban Brighton when the vehicle was struck in the rear by another car, police said.

His identity was withheld, pending notification of relatives. Police said the man's car apparently became disabled on Jefferson Road and he pulled to the side of the street. He went to the front of the car, raised the hood and was standing there when the second car struck him, they said.

Cuba Has Shock Troops Similar To Red Guards

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Recently created shock troops described by exiles as similar to China's Red Guards are reported on the move in Cuba. The units, officially called Youth Technical Brigades, reportedly have the dual role of serving as technicians in industries and on farms and making certain the workers are good producers and good Communists.

The official Havana newspaper Granma, which reaches some exiles, quoted Cuban Lt. General Miguel Martin as describing the brigades as "a shock troop against indolence, disorganization and lack of discipline."

Mario Fontela, secretary general of the Miami-based Democratic Revolutionary Labor Front, an anti-Castro labor organization, said brigade members wear blue shirts, work trousers and a holster with a revolver.

"Fidel (Castro) imitated the Chinese in forming the same type of groups as the Red Guards," Fontela said. "The functions are the same — overcome the rebellion of the workers."

Canada's Road Toll Up

OTTAWA (AP) — Accidents across Canada during the Christmas holiday weekend have claimed at least 102 lives, including 82 on the highways. The total, as well as the highway death toll, for the 78-hour period was 20 higher than last year's figure of 82 for the same time.

The traffic death count was 17 more than the 65 predicted by the Canadian Highway Traffic Safety Council.

Fire Damages 4 Stores In Franklin Square

FRANKLIN SQUARE, N.Y. (AP) — Fire raged through four stores along Hempstead Turnpike for nearly two hours today before firemen, working in sub-freezing temperatures, subdued it.

Firemen remained at the scene through the morning, watering down the still-smoldering remains of the buildings.

The fire, which started about 6 a.m., spread through a row of buildings that housed a camera and card shop, a liquor store, a real estate office and a shoe shop.

Firemen from Franklin Square and nearby Elmont fought the fire, their efforts slowed by the snow and slush of the Christmas eve snowstorm. Water froze in the streets in 20-degree temperatures.

Police said the fire was under control at 7:30 a.m., but firemen continued to snuff out persistent flames.

The cause was not immediately determined, and the Franklin Square fire chief asked for an immediate investigation by the state fire marshal.

There were no reports of injuries.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR Investment Advisor & Analyst
All Stocks Have Risk.
Diversify to Spread It

Q: "I am a widow nearing retirement. Most of the stock I own is in Masonite Corp. What is your opinion of this company? Do you suggest any change?"

W. D. A) Masonite is a major producer of hardboard. Its plant at Laurel, Miss., is the largest facility in the world for turning out that material. I like the stock for moderate income and continued growth. No one, however — and particularly no one in your position — should disregard the principle of diversification, which is a fundamental rule of investing. There is an element of risk in all stocks and this should be spread out among sufficient individual issues so that loss in any one could not seriously impair your moderate amount of Masonite if the present 3 1/2 per cent yield is sufficient for retirement. I would switch the balance into income stocks, and suggest C. I. T. Financial, yielding six per cent; Southern Ry., selling on a 6 1/2 per cent basis; and Maytag, now offering a 6.3 per cent return.

Q: "We're a couple in our early thirties and have $1,500 in U. S. Savings Bonds. We are thinking of cashing these and investing in stock. Would you advise this?"

J. A. A) Like most nice young couples, you are anxious to build for the future. You've told me so little of your circumstances that it's rather difficult to advise you. Because no mention is made of other assets, I'm going to assume that your $1,500 in savings bonds represents the bulk of your savings to date. If that is so, I strongly advise you against redeeming them and putting the money into stocks. Before putting a cent into the latter medium, I believe you should have adequate savings, insurance and, in most instances, an equity in a home. The only thing certain about stocks is that they fluctuate, and that stock should never be so placed that you are obliged to sell in a falling market.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Hearing on 29th On Suit to Block JFK Death Book

NEW YORK (AP) — A Supreme Court justice today set a hearing for Thursday at the request of the publishers of "The Death of a President" in Mrs. John F. Kennedy's suit to block its publication.

Counsel for the ailing author, William Manchester, asked that the hearing, as it applies to him, be put off until Jan. 16.

Justice Saul Street granted both requests.

Edward S. Greenbaum, counsel for the publishers, Harper & Row, demanded the Thursday hearing date.

Outside the court, Greenbaum said no hitch has developed in the negotiations with Mrs. Kennedy's representatives. Negotiations were canceled Monday when Manchester was taken to a hospital in Connecticut suffering from pneumonia.

Simon H. Rifkind, Mrs. Kennedy's chief counsel, asked about the publisher's insistence on a Thursday hearing. "I don't quite understand it, but I won't comment."

Asked how close the parties were to an out-of-court agreement, he replied: "The solution has not been found."

Neighbor Admits Murder of Three Alabama Teens

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Authorities said today a service station employee has admitted the sex slayings of three teenage boys.

Sheriff Mel Bailey of Jefferson County and Sheriff C. P. Walker of Shelby County said David McCarther Jr., 25, admitted the killings in an oral statement.

McCarther was charged with three counts of murder and transferred to the jail at Columbiana.

The bodies of Steve Murphy, 13, his brother, Vaughn, 15, and Will Binzel, 14, were found Monday, about 10 miles south of Birmingham.

The youngsters lived in the same neighborhood as McCarther and had been seen with him on occasions, officers said.

Authorities said the oldest Murphy boy and Binzel were shot behind the ear and the youngest victim was choked.

Frederick J. Penfold, also of Elnora, a senior investigator on the Division Headquarters staff, has been advanced to lieutenant, filling the position formerly held by Captain Boland.

Navy Veteran

Lt. Penfold, who is 35, was born in Hornell, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Penfold. He is a graduate of Hornell High School and attended Cornell University for a year and the State University College at Brockport for two years. He served in the Mediterranean Theatre with the United States Navy from 1951 to 1954.

Upon entering the State Police May 10, 1956, Lt. Penfold was assigned to Troop A, Batavia. He served at various times at stations in Henrietta, Bergen, Clarence, Wellsville, East Aurora and Avon.

In 1960, he was transferred to the Bureau of Criminal Investigation. Upon his promotion to sergeant in 1964, he was transferred to Division Headquarters. He was designated a senior investigator a year later.

Lt. Penfold is married to the former Marcia Taylor of Rochester. They live with their daughter and two sons at 5 Chestnut Lane, Clifton Knolls, Elnora.

His new salary will be $11,700.

The plan approved, he held was not a "very subtle attempt at gerrymandering ward lines to suit the Democratic party," and he cited drastic ward line changes particularly as they affect the present heavily populated 11th, 12th and Second wards.

Expects Rejections

Mayone said he had come up with a plan as early as March, 1966, and noted that he had spent many hours learning about reapportionment and concluded that any plan "must honor existing minority and majority groupings. It must respect existing political subdivision lines. In our case this would be ward boundaries. I defy anyone to tell me that this has been done in the plan now before us."

It was his feeling, he said that "this plan is illegal, and will be rejected by the court." He submitted alternate proposals for the record and felt that "these are better plans and they more accurately follow the intent of the one-man, one-vote principle. We will make every attempt to submit these to the court as recommendations for alternate means of reapportioning the City of Kingston."

The plan recently approved calls for continued election of 13 aldermen, but vastly changes ward lines.

Nicholas Dandolos

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nicholas Andrea Dandolos, 80, Nick the Greek whose reputation as a gambler was legendary, died Sunday of complications following a heart attack. His friends said he once won $1.6 million in a 12-day crap game.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market losses deepened this afternoon as the list got started on its final week of trading for 1966.

The pace was moderate and the decline got under way slowly after a mixed opening.

The news over the long Christmas weekend contained nothing surprising although the resumption of bombing in North Vietnam was scarcely encouraging.

Airlines and some of the other glamor stocks took fairly sharp losses running to 2 or more points.

Some stocks were sold because, starting today, it will be possible to sell at a profit "regular way"—four-day delivery—and have the profit deferred to income tax returns for 1967, thus postponing tax payments a full year.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 4.23 at 794.87.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 2 to 296.4 with industrials off 6, rails up 1 and utilities unchanged.

Losses of around 2 points were taken by leading airlines, including Eastern, United and Pan American. American dropped 1.

Fairchild Camera fell 4 points or so, IBM and SCM nearly 3 each.

Douglas Aircraft was off a fraction. Fairchild Hiller gained a fraction. According to a published report, Fairchild Hiller is talking with Douglas about a possible plan for offering Douglas needed new capital.

Raytheon lost a couple of points. Xerox about 2, Polaroid around 1 1/2.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Name Locations For Holstein Cattle Exhibits

Following its previous announcement of three national shows for Registered Holstein cattle in 1967, the board of directors of Holstein-Friesian Association of America has designated Harrisburg, Pa., Madison, Wis., and Sacramento, Calif., as locations of the eastern, central and western exhibits.

Costs and available labor for moving show cattle great distances have been deterrents to true, country-wide representation at a single national show location in recent years.

The three-show system in 1967, most registered Holstein breeders will be within a single day's traveling time of a nationally-recognized exhibition.

Eastern breeders will be showing at Harrisburg's All-American Dairy Show from September 11 to 13; mid western show strings will head for the Worlds Food and Agriculture Exposition at Madison, Sept. 19-24; while breeders groups in the western states have indicated their full support for a show at Sacramento, Oct. 11-12.

For the first time in many years, the Holstein Association did not designate a national-level show for 1966, but continued its recognition of five regional shows and one international dairy cattle exposition.

New Paltz

Parents of children attending the New Paltz Central School are reminded of Public Health Law—Article 21, Section 2164, enacted at the last session of the legislature and signed by the Governor.

The act takes effect on Jan. 1, and requires parents or guardians to have each child entering or attending school given an adequate dose or doses of an approved immunizing agent against polio.

Acceptable evidence of immunization may include a written statement by the parent, or by a physician showing that the child has received or is receiving such immunization, and giving the dates and type of vaccine administered so far.

Forms for making the required statements were mailed to all parents on Dec. 1. The large percentage have already been completed and returned to the school.

The parent of any child who has not been immunized should see that he does before returning from the Christmas vacation.

Any parent misplacing the form may receive one from the main office of the Central School.

To Tour Puerto Rico

The Anthropology class of New Paltz High School is again organizing a cultural field trip to Puerto Rico, in accordance with present studies.

The students will soon launch a fund-raising campaign, serving to lessen the financial burden on themselves while in Puerto Rico. The money earned will be used to meet the expense of an educational tour of the island.

The tour will include such places as the tropical rain forests, Old and New San Juan, and the "El Morro Fortress."

Launching of this campaign on Dec. 27, involves a bottle drive. The students plan to make the rounds of New Paltz between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. The benefits from such a bottle drive are twofold, and while helping to finance the tour, donors will also be getting rid of the deposit bottles cluttering up basements during the holidays.

To help even further, the students are planning a second bottle drive for Jan. 2, between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Address Envelopes

To assist the Association for Crippled Children and Adults of New York State, Business Education students at New Paltz High School addressed 2,000 envelopes. This was done under the direction of Miss Carol Conklin, a senior secretarial practice student. She was assisted in their spare time were Ann Van Alst, Jutta Gaides, Diane Penzato, Cathy Brown, and Christina Thoben.

over to give aid "one of the kids of high school age who had not been hit shined a flashlight in his eyes and he broke the flashlight with his rifle. As soon as he had broken the flashlight one of his buddies shouted a warning."

"I had bent down, sort of, to break the flashlight and when I stood up I saw a grenade by my left foot. A little nine-year old kid was the one who had dropped it. When I turned my head and kicked the grenade went off. It knocked me and the three kids down too. One of them was still crying, but it must have killed the other two," Turner said.

Turner was taken to camp and later flown home. The grenade had splintered his left leg below the knee, caught him in the other leg, tore his stomach open, peppered his chest, face and arms with fragments and blew the knuckle off the base of the fourth finger of his left hand.

This was the second time Corporal Turner had been wounded. Last February he was wounded when a punji stick pierced his right wrist during a bayonet charge in a graveyard near Phu Bai, Viet Nam.

Turner enlisted in the Marines on July 22, 1964, and went to the orient with the Second Battalion, First Marine Division, and arrived in Viet Nam on August 26, 1965.

He expects to be discharged from the hospital in January.

Suspect Arson

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Firemen suspect arson in the blaze that destroyed the $10,000 sports car of former Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

When the firefighters arrived at Goldwater's home Monday, they found the short wave radio-equipped car in flames.

Hints at Project

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton, 83 today, said in a pre-birthday interview that he is working on a number of projects "of the first magnitude," but they are still of a confidential nature.

He is chairman of the board of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway and also exerts either control or a important influence over industrial projects estimated to be worth $3 billion.

Eaton said in the interview Monday at his farm at Northfield, Ohio, that he still has "all the zest I ever had and I am still experiencing the full joy of living."

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 27, the 361st day of 1966. There are four days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1776, Congress granted George Washington dictatorial powers in military matters for a period of six months. On this date:

In 1822, French scientist Louis Pasteur was born.

In 1918, President Woodrow Wilson was guest of honor at Buckingham Palace in London.

In 1941, Japanese planes bombed the open city of Manila, the Philippine capital.

In 1942, the government took control of the nation's railroads to avert a threatened stoppage in transportation.

In 1944, Allied forces, including a U.S. tank column, smashed across the bulge in Belgium to relieve the stranded American garrison at Bastogne under siege for nine days by the Germans.

Ten years ago—President El-senhower nominated John Hay Whitney, New York financier, to be ambassador to Britain. Whitney was to succeed Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich who had resigned.

Five years ago—Hope for the formation of a coalition government in the strife-torn southeast Asian kingdom of Laos waned, when talks scheduled by the princess heading the three warring Laotian political factions were canceled.

One year ago—The State Department said there had been no noteworthy reaction from Communist North Vietnam in the pause in U.S. bombings of North Vietnam. This as Vice President Humphrey left on his first major overseas assignment—a weeklong trip to Japan, the Philippines, Taiwan and Korea.

About 55 million Americans ride bicycles. Wisconsin recently established the first cross-state bikeway where cyclists can pedal in safety.

Expect Johnson To Work Again Today at Ranch

AUSTIN, TEX. (AP) — President Johnson, making far less news in recent days than usual, is supposed to spend the day again working at his LBJ Ranch desk.

Press secretary George Christian did not say what matters are due for the President's prime attention.

Since his arrival Dec. 16 for the holidays, Johnson has made far less news than in past years.

The parade of official visitors from the ranch to press headquarters in Austin for news conferences has been largely missing. Direct contacts with newsmen have been at a minimum.

Some speculate that Johnson may want to concentrate on and political problems greater than he has faced in the past.

Doing The Right Thing

BY ELIZABETH L. POST

GOOD TASTE IN "HIGH SOCIETY?"

A few weeks ago the newspapers were filled with stories of Truman Capote's black-and-white ball.

To boast about the cost of one's clothes, the amount one pays for a party and the company one keeps, is exhibiting a poor taste as anything I can imagine. To say nothing of people offering the host hundreds of dollars in exchange for an invitation. I have no objections at all to big elaborate parties, nor to publicity about them when they're given to benefit a charity or cause. But to see our so-called "society" and "best people" make spectacles of themselves by openly reveling in the enormous prices they paid for their costumes, etc., is an affront to the less fortunate people all over the world—and an unforgivable breach of etiquette.

Boy Asks Girl to Formal Party

Dear Mrs. Post: How far ahead should a boy ask a girl to a formal banquet? Also, does he ask her what color dress she is going to wear so he can buy a corsage, or does he ask another girl to find out? Bob.

Dear Bob: The girl will want to have time to plan her outfit for a formal party, so he should ask her at least 10 days ahead. She'll be delighted to tell him the color of her dress rather than relaying the message through another girl, so, by all means, ask.

Repeating Mistake Compounds An Error

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend told me recently that, if you are with some one who mispronounces a word and you use the same word while still talking to him, you should pronounce it in the same incorrect way to avoid seeming critical. I can't believe that this is correct. Would you settle the argument, please? Barbara.

Dear Barbara: You would just be compounding his error by mispronouncing the word. There's a chance that if you say it properly, he will catch it and say it correctly the next time.

Camera Club Opens New Season With Slide Competition

An open color slide competition will be conducted by the Kingston Camera Club after a brief business meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 4. The club will meet in Aircraft Camera Gallery, 694 Broadway.

After the judging, all slides and black and white prints will be shown for discussion on composition and originality. The club announced that two recent open house meetings netted eight new memberships. In view of this increase, it has been decided to conduct all 1967 meetings on an open house basis. Any area amateur, professional or beginner photographer interested in learning more about the subject and sharing his or her photo work, is invited to attend. Competition rules for 1967 will be established at the January 3 meeting as well as objectives and themes. Refreshments will be served.

Sisterhood Gives 'Shower' for New Synagogue Kitchen

Sisterhood Ahavath Israel recently marked its last regular meeting in the congregation's social hall at 72 Wurts Street, this city, by giving a "shower" for the kitchen of the new synagogue and social hall on Lucas Avenue.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Seymour Semiloff, members donated gifts of gadgets, potholders, coffee pot, coffee and assorted kitchen utensils for use in the new building. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Irving Wilpan, hospitality chairman.

The evening was highlighted also by a Hanukkah program with candlelighting ceremony and group singing planned by Mrs. Harry Schechtman.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Sidney Rafalowsky announced that membership in United Synagogue Youth has doubled. The group of boys and girls is planning an active 1967. Those interested in joining may contact Mrs. Rafalowsky or Miss Arlene Jacobs.

Mrs. Semiloff and Dr. Murray Greene are accepting reservations for a New Year's Eve party in the social hall of the new building, it was announced. On January 20 a special Sisterhood

Sabbath honoring the 50th anniversary of the National Women's League is planned.

The membership was informed also that until the new gift shop is set up in the Lucas Avenue building, Mrs. George Small will maintain gift shop services at her home.

The next general membership meeting is scheduled for January

11. Friends are invited to join in the celebration of the National Women's League Golden Jubilee.

Debutante History Made by Francine; Wears Paper Dress

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Petite 18-year-old Francine Ayn LeFrak made debutante history of sorts Monday night by coming out in a paper dress at Arthur discotheque shimmering with silver decorations for the special occasion.

The second daughter of real estate man Samuel J. LeFrak didn't damage the dress despite some fantastic frugging with dad and dates on the dance floor. Nor did pop come off very cheaply because Francine's dress was paper.

All in all the silver party—ornaments, decorations, dresses—was estimated to have cost approximately $20,000. "A relative thing," said proud dad, "when you think of the fun. We've got to communicate with our kids today in this age of protest."

The basic dress worn by Francine with Alice-in-Wonderland blonde hair cost $12 at a local department store. The silver ornaments were Christmas decorations, embellishments of the famed French designer Bob Bugnan. His talented touches upped the price considerably.

Interior designer David Barrett used hundreds of yards of shimmering icicles, glistening silver bells, and covered the ceiling with silver helium-filled balloons, all with Francine's name on them.

The more than 400 mostly young debs and escorts of the season danced to an all-girl rock 'n' roll band, "The Loves," all clad in silver.

More conventional off-the-shoulder silver blue lame was Mrs. LeFrak's choice of dress for her daughter's debut.

LeFrak is director of the Saratoga Center for Performing Arts and is proud of his private collection of French impressionists.

He had planned to distribute silver dollars he has been accruing since his daughter's birth but the guest list grew too large for that.

He says he will keep on saving for daughter Jacqueline, now 2, who will be having her own coming out in whatever may be the vogue 16 years from now.

DEMOCRATS AID NEEDY — Members of the Ulster County Women's Democratic Club were busy during the holiday season packing and distributing baskets to the needy. The work was done at the home of Mrs. Lincoln Crosby, 120 Downs Street, this city. Mrs. Crosby and Dr. Gerald P. Gorman, Democratic city committee chairman, were co-chairmen of the project. With the co-chairmen are, seated (l-r) Mrs. Mary McMahon; Mrs. Crosby; Mrs. Agnes Loughran; standing (l-r) Mrs. Robert Gorsline; Dr. Gorman, and Mrs. Martin Keller. (H. Pete Powell)

Prospective Bride Of Charles Thomas

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Cozza of 155 O'Neil Street, Kingston, announce the engagement of their daughter Rosann, to Charles Thomas, son of Mrs. Margaret Thomas of 325 Elmendorf Street, Kingston.

Miss Cozza is a senior at Kingston High School. Mr. Thomas is a Kingston High School graduate and is employed by Shop-Rite, Kingston.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Nurses Institute Information Series; Deemed Successful

In an effort to keep the public informed about the nursing profession in today's world, local District 11 of the New York State Nurses Association sponsored a series of radio programs based on "The Nurse in the Community." Carried by and area station, the formats were prepared by Kay Heavey, retired editor of a district nursing publication. She was assisted by Marion Ostrander and Mary Spada.

The subjects included "Who Are Today's Nurses?" "Practical Nurses, Education and Duties;" "Nursing Education of the Professional Nurse;" "Nursing from the Point of View of the Administrator;" "Problems of Nursing Service in the Catskill Area;" "Economic Situation of the Nurse."

Guest lecturers in addition to Kay Heavey, Marion Ostrander and Mary Spada were the following: Dorothy Barber, president of Practical Nurses Association; Pearl Waters, Association treasurer; Sister M. Callista, director, School of Nursing, Benedictine Hospital; Miss Rosemary Pellegrino, director, School of Nursing, Kingston Hospital; Sister Mary Charles, co-administrator, Benedictine Hospital; Gloria Buckley, Nursing Service Director, Catskill Hospital, and Brother Arthur of Barrytown.

Music Appreciation Group

The Music Appreciation Group of Kingston met at the home of Mrs. John Sterley this month and Miss Jane Austen served as co-hostess.

Mrs. William Ochs, president, opened the meeting by reading "The Prayer of Peace" by St. Francis of Assisi. Devotions were followed by a brief business meeting.

Mrs. Hans Decker and Mrs. Richard Morse collaborated in the preparation of the program on Franz Liszt which was presented by Mrs. Morse in the absence of Mrs. Decker. Interesting events of his life showed many sides to his nature, the unconventional ones being largely obscured by his virtuosity at the piano. Emphasizing his interest in Romanticism, the speaker dwelt at length on Liszt's beautiful tone poem "Les Preludes," describing the various images called forth in this composition. A recording of this work served to impress the listeners with the beauty of the music and resulted in a better understanding of the composer's genius. The group listened to other recordings written by Liszt.

After adjournment, the hostess served refreshments in keeping with the holiday season. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Pixley on February 18.

Two Kingston Teams Winners in Coleman Cage Tourney

Starts Thursday

Albany State Choice To Win Tournament

Albany State, winner of four of six games, ranks as the choice to cop the Capital City invitation basketball tournament for the second straight year.

The tourney, at Siena College's Gibbons Hall, pairs the Great Danes against Marist College of Poughkeepsie in the Thursday opener at 7:15 p. m. Host Siena engages New Paltz in the 9 p. m. nightcap.

Albany, coached by Dick Saugerties, has lost to Central Connecticut and Merrimack and has beaten Pratt, Plattsburgh, Potsdam and Brooklyn. Among the starters is Larry Marcus, former Kingston High Star and a junior at Albany State.

Siena, now 2-3, has been hot and cold. The Indians lost to Hartwick and St. Peter's and then rang up wins over St. John Fisher and Stonehill. Siena lost to Williams in its last start.

Mark Palinski, who played for coach Ed Donohue at Our Lady of Lourdes, is the leading scorer for the Siena cagers.

New Paltz shows a 1-2 record with a win over Plattsburgh and losses to C. W. Post and Marist. The Hawks are coached by Doug Sheppard.

Marist has already played seven games and has a 4-3 log. Victories were over Danbury, King's, New Paltz and Bloomfield. Losses were to Stonehill, Fairleigh Dickinson and Brooklyn. Ron Petro, former Manhattan College standout, is the coach.

Winners of the Thursday night games will meet the following evening for the championship. Losers will collide for third place.

In KHS Tourney

LeFevre, McCray Top Schoolboy Cage Stars

Two of the top schoolboy players in New York State will be seen in action Wednesday and Thursday nights at the Kate Walton Field House, site of the third annual Kingston High School Invitational Holiday Basketball tournament.

Lonnie LeFevre, a 6-7, 215-pound junior, is the leading scorer and rebounder for the Falcons of Philip Schuyler and Gary McCray has the same status with Beacon high's defending champions.

Philip Schuyler pre-season favorite in the always tough Capital District League, has scored three impressive wins and LeFevre has been instrumental in the decisions. The Falcons have beaten Troy, 67-59; Amsterdam, 97-71 and Linton, 88-80, in an overtime thriller.

Coach Ron Sontz, handling the varsity club for the first time, labels LeFevre as the best player in the upstate area.

Of course, the Falcons haven't retained their unbeaten mark with only a one-man team. Backing up LeFevre are Herb Bowen, Milton Horne, Roe Roberts, Jim Warner, Burns Wilson and Roy Jenkins, an Albany High transfer. They saw plenty of action last year and have picked up where they left off.

Must Stop McCray

Schuyler will oppose Beacon in the opening game and if the Bulldogs are to be stopped, McCray has to be handled.

A star since his sophomore year, McCray has had his ups and downs. He was suspended last year midway through the season. Results of the first four games this year show that McCray is as good as ever.

Like LeFevre, he has a solid starting cast. Coach Dick DiBianco has the likes of Nate Milligan, John Moore and Steve Quill. The Beaconites have a phenomenal basketball record in recent years. They show 47 straight wins in DCSL competition and two straight Kingston tournament championships.

The Beacon-Schuyler winner will play the Nyack-Kingston victor. The host club and the Rockland County leaders will collide in Wednesday's second game.

Top Teams Vie In YMCA League

YMCA basketball league's three unbeaten teams see action in tonight's doubleheader on the Y hardwoods.

Tony's Pizzeria and Jack's Barber Shop, both 2-0, clash in the 7:15 p. m. opener. Spartan Pools (3-0) and Stone Ridge (2-1) are scheduled at 8:30 p. m.

Jumpin' Joe Uhl leads the Spartan attack with a fantastic 42 average. Stone Ridge boasts three players in the 20 plus class: Cliff Schoonmaker, 24.7; Jim Massa, 21.5, and Bill Egan 21.

Wednesday's games are: 7:15 — Ferroxcube (1-1) vs. Boyle's A.C. (1-2); 8:30 — Royal Grill (0-2) vs. Food Fair (0-2).

Saugerties and St. Francis Also Take First Games

Two Kingston teams—St. Joseph's and St. Mary's and St. Mary's of the Snows (Saugerties) were first round winners in the Coleman Holiday Basketball Tournament at the municipal auditorium.

St. Joseph's eliminated Immaculate Conception of Kingston, 37-24, while St. Mary's stopped Holy Trinity of Utica, 44-36, in first round action.

St. Mary's (Saugerties) topped St. Catherine Laboure, 38-15, while St. Francis de Sales (Phoenicia) routed St. Augustine's (Highland), 41 to 8.

Semi-Finals Tonight

In semi-final action tonight, St. Francis meets St. Mary's (Kingston) at 7:30, followed by St. Joseph's vs. St. Mary's of the Snows (Saugerties), at 8:30 p. m.

Finals and consolation are scheduled Thursday starting at 7:30 p. m. Tournament trophies will be awarded after the championship game which starts at 8:30.

Hastings Hits 27

Don Hastings of St. Mary's (Kingston) was the first round's leading scorer with 27 points. George Pwinski of Holy Trinity was runnerup with 21.

Snyder and V. Hoyt potted 10 each for St. Francis. D. Post of Immaculate Conception hit with 15 and Don Williams (12) and S. Hogan (11) paced St. Joseph's.

Trosch, Duranko Top North-South

Yankees Defeat Rebels, 27 to 14

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A team of Yankee stars, eager to impress a flock of pro scouts in the stands, rolled to a 27-14 victory over the Rebels Monday night in the North-South college football game.

Eugene Trosch, 6-foot-6, 247-pound defensive tackle from the University of Miami, was voted the most valuable player for the South, and another defensive tackle, Pete Duranko, 235-pounder from Notre Dame, was picked for the North.

The North team, winning only for the seventh time in the year series, powered to a 24-0 halftime lead, then coasted home behind a rugged defense.

Donald Crockett, the nation's leading punter from Adams State College in Colorado, boosted the Yanks into a 6-0 first quarter lead with field goals of 31 and 38 yards.

Then, in one minute, 12 seconds of the second period, the Yanks scored twice on a nine-yard pass from Colorado's Bernie McCall to Tulsa's Neal Sweeney and a 20-yard dash with an intercepted pass by Duranko.

Burris Finds Range

Houston's Bo Burris finally found the range for the South in the last quarter with scoring shots of 15 and 11 yards to Gary Rowe of North Carolina State.

But the South never got in close shooting distance as the North also scored in the fourth on a nine-yard run by Bo Rein of Ohio State.

The postseason bowl activity hits its peak this weekend with the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Cotton and Gator Bowls, the East-West Shrine Game and the NFL and AFL championship games.

The Cotton and Gator bowls and the Shrine Game open the heavy slate Saturday, New Year's Eve. The two pro championships will be played Sunday and the Rose, Sugar and Orange bowls are set for Monday.

The Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., matches Tennessee, 7-3, and Syracuse, 8-2 while the Cotton Bowl at Dallas has Georgia, 9-1, vs. Southern Methodist.

UCLA Retains No. 1 Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. John's of New York shook up the Associated Press college basketball poll by knocking off Kansas last week and now Northwestern has shaken up St. John's.

The Redmen dropped the Jayhawks right out of the poll with a 62-44 licking a week ago and earned themselves eighth place in this week's ranking.

But in the opening round of New York's Holiday Basketball Festival Monday, Northwestern nipped St. John's 62-60 and that means the Redmen's stay among the Top Ten could be as short as Kansas' was.

The panel of sports writers and broadcasters left the top four rankings unchanged. UCLA remained No. 1, Louisville second, North Carolina third and Texas Western fourth. Three of those teams play in tournaments this week.

Texas Western hosts the four-team Sun Carnival opening at El Paso Thursday. North Carolina is not entered in any tourney but will stay busy, playing Furman tonight and Ohio State Friday.

Michigan State, also entered in the Quaker City tournament, slipped five notches from fifth to 10th after losing to New Orleans Loyola last week.

The Spartans' No. 5 slot went to New Mexico, who moved up one notch from No. 6. New Mexico hosts the Lobo Invitational with three other teams entered. It opens Thursday.

Houston moved up two spots to No. 6 and is entered in the Arkansas State Invitational beginning Wednesday. Cincinnati, No. 7, plays St. Joseph's of Indiana Wednesday and Iowa Friday. Vanderbilt, which moved up to ninth, is off this week.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points on a 10-9 etc. basis:

1. UCLA (31)	319
2. Louisville	272
3. North Carolina (1)	246
4. Texas Western	198
5. New Mexico	134
6. Houston	116
7. Cincinnati	99
8. St. John's, N.Y.	76
9. Vanderbilt	65
10. Michigan State	53

Wildcats Surprise St. John's, 62 to 60

By MURRAY CHASS

NEW YORK (AP) — North-western is in the semifinals of the Holiday Festival basketball tournament because Dan Davis was in the right place at the right time. Providence is there because Jim Walker makes the right place and the right time.

Davis was under the basket with one second to play and converted a rebound into a three-point play that gave Northwestern a 62-60 upset over eighth-ranked St. John's, N.Y., Monday.

The Wildcats later learned they will play defending champion Providence in Wednesday night's semifinal. The Friars, with Walker dribbling, faking and shooting his way to 37 points, walloped Duquesne 82-55.

In the other games Rhode Island crushed St. Bonaventure 109-79 and St. Joseph's, Pa., upset Brigham Young 67-61.

Rhode Island and St. Joseph's will meet in the other semifinal contest.

Walker put on a performance reminiscent of the 50-point show he gave last year in leading Providence to a 91-86 victory over Boston College in the title game and in winning the tournament's most valuable player award.

Against Duquesne, the 6-foot-3 senior scored the Friars' first nine points, 16 of the first 19 and 21 of the first 27. He added 16 more points to the shouts from the 14,636 fans of "Walker, Walker, Walker."

What Walker does is dribble, dribble and dribble some more until the man guarding him makes a mistake. Then, even before the defender realizes what he's done wrong, Walker takes another dribble and is up in the air, firing the ball into the basket.

Against St. John's Northwestern's Davis had his best one second of this, his first varsity season.

St. John's led 60-59 with 23 seconds to go. The Wildcats had the ball, but no one could get clear for a shot. Finally, with four seconds left, Terry Gamber fired a desperation shot.

It fell short, but Davis leaped, grabbed it and put in a two-pointer. He was fouled and added the free throw.

Davis, who had entered the game for the first time only 3 1/2 minutes before, explained how he happened to be in the right place.

"The odds are that when a man shoots from the right side the ball will come over to the left," he said. "I moved two steps to get there and jumped."

Tickets on Sale For Cage Contest

Tickets for the Wednesday night appearance at the Rondout Valley Central School gym of the world-famous Harlem Satellites, are still available. The touring team will meet a combined Rondout Valley Faculty All-Star squad, led by Don Lee, former Albany College great.

The Satellites are led by Rookie Brown, a former Harlem Globetrotter. They present comical antics on the court and also give an example of their tremendous ability.

A limited supply of tickets will be sold at the door the night of the game.

Lombardi Angry About Training Field Conditions

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi could hardly be blamed if he declined the next time somebody suggests Tulsa's Skelly Stadium as a December training site.

It wasn't even certain the Packers would finish their final week of drills here for their Jan. 1 encounter with the Dallas Cowboys for the National Football League championship.

Lombardi was perturbed when the Packers arrived Monday to find Skelly Stadium's turf still covered with a thin layer of snow which fell last Thursday.

The Packers worked out in the snow and scheduled another drill for today after obtaining assurance the snow would be scraped off and the field covered.

Workers cleared the field and put down a plastic cover, but the weather bureau forecast heavy snow today, possibly extending into Wednesday.

Lombardi said the Packers would stay as planned if the field condition did not get worse.

Most embarrassed by the awkward chain of events was the Skelly Stadium Corp., which lured the Packers to Tulsa in hopes they would like conditions well enough to play an exhibition game next summer.

Toes May Decide Cotton Bowl Tilt

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — If Saturday's Cotton Bowl football game should go down to a matter of place-kicking — and with Georgia and Southern Methodist boasting defenses that could put a premium on field goals — there are a couple of guys who ought to meet the issue.

Bob Etter of Georgia has done more of it than his counterpart, Dennis Pardee of Southern Methodist.

Pardee booted 21 of 23 extra points and landed on four of nine field goal attempts. He also punted 47 times for an average of 36 yards.

Etter sent 12 of 15 field goal tries through the crossbars and kicked 21 of 22 extra point attempts.

Meredith Thinks Dallas Will Win

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "We have a very good chance of beating Green Bay and winning the National Football League championship," said Don Meredith Tuesday.

The Cowboys quarterback, who has become a Dallas institution—he has played football here for 11 years—wasn't speaking in a tone of braggadocio.

"There are a lot of reasons why Dallas can beat Green Bay," he said. "First we have a good team—good enough to win. Green Bay has the type team for us to play—they execute very well, rely on coordination, and we are the same. So it is a matter of execution and if we do it properly—which I believe we will—we will win."

It couldn't come sooner either, Meredith mused. "I never have played on a championship team and I started in the sixth grade," he declared.

Meredith said he guessed this was the biggest test he ever faced.

"There couldn't be any greater—this one means the most. It has the highest stakes, not necessarily in money but in prestige. I welcome it and I know my teammates welcome it. We feel we are prepared to meet the challenge."

"This kind of opportunity doesn't come for many people. It is the chance of a lifetime. We don't intend to let it pass."

"The two weeks off has done me a world of good. I am at full strength as are the other members of this team. We can win this game—and we are going to win it."

Track War Ends On Coast, Expect 3 Years of Peace

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Three years of nonlabor strife was promised today to all California race tracks — unless trouble breaks out on some new front.

Santa Anita's big racing plant, which has learned to live dangerously, escaped its latest strike threat as a post-Christmas present Monday some 10 hours before post time for the first race.

Management representing the nine racing associations in California and representatives of the AFL-CIO and Teamsters unions settled their long and bitter controversy.

As a result, pari-mutuel clerks and maintenance crews will receive $1 a day increases for the first two years and 75 cents for the third year, plus health and welfare benefits.

Dear Abby . . .

Friend's 'Business' Is Her Own

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A little over 5 months ago my wife passed away after 42 years of married life. It was a very happy marriage. I only mention this so you will know that what follows indicates no lack of love or respect for her.

Recently I have been seeing a neighbor. I have taken her out for dinner a few times. She is single, and I have known her for many years. She is 60 and I am 64, but we could both pass for much younger as we are young in heart and mind. She has gone with me reluctantly because she is sensitive about what people might say. She thinks it is too soon for me to be taking anyone out.

I am honest, we are in love. Naturally, I wouldn't consider marriage until a full year has passed, but is there anything wrong with our seeing each other and making plans?

MR. X:
DER MR. X: No. Providing you aren't silly about it and go out kicking up your heels in the bright lights.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a young mother who would rather go to work than stay home and take care of her 4-year-old son? I think it's terrible the way she drops the child off at a nursery every morning, just like you would put a dog in a kennel. She doesn't have to work as her husband makes good money.
And do you think a husband who really loved his wife would let her go out to work? Your opinion of such people will be appreciated. Don't reveal the town this letter is from. And please sign it . . .

Some Dems Feel Need for Leader Other Than LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly half of a group of key Democratic leaders either believe their party would be better off with a candidate other than President Johnson in 1968 or are unwilling at present to endorse his renomination, the New York Times said today.

The story from Washington added, however, that few among the 125 leading Democrats in 30 states interviewed by the Times "were rash enough to predict Mr. Johnson would be challenged for the presidential nomination or would lose it if he should be challenged."

The story also said in part: Those questioned included state officials, Democratic state chairmen, members of the Democratic National Committee and candidates for major office in the last election, both successful and unsuccessful. In the interest of candid answers, they were promised anonymity.

Of the group, 43 per cent either said they would prefer a new presidential nominee in 1968 or dodged the issue, usually on the ground that it was too early to tell what might be desirable then.

In general, support for the President's candidacy was strongest in the Northeastern states and weakest in the South and Midwest. He had some critics in almost every section of the country, however.

Fifty-seven per cent of the party leaders favored Johnson's renomination, some of them enthusiastically, others with a combination of loyalty and fatalism.

Wortham in Good Spirits
MOSCOW (AP) — Buel Ray Wortham is generally relaxed and in good spirits, his lawyer said today while reporting progress on filing an appeal.

Fyodor S. Rozhdestvensky said he expects to forward Wednesday an appeal of the three-year sentence of Wortham, 25, of North Little Rock, Ark. Wortham was convicted in Lenin-grad last week of illegal currency deals and theft.

The Soviet lawyer said the appeal would go to the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation, a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy reported.

Note Education Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average school district is spending $435 to educate each elementary student and $566 for each high school student, a survey shows.

The report in School Management, a magazine for school administrators, said the corresponding costs a year ago were $402 for elementary students and $523 for high schoolers.

The figures do not include construction, debt or school transportation costs.

Over-all expenditures for elementary and secondary public schools will be a record $13.7 billion this year, the survey said.

Score Bombings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve church leaders have written President Johnson that U.S. bombings "in or near Hanoi" have sabotaged chances for a longer cease-fire to get peace negotiations started.

"Worst of all, Mr. President," said their letter, "is the fact that the actions of your own government now clearly appear to contradict your own words as its chief spokesman."

"How can your call for negotiations and a peaceful settlement be taken seriously when the U.S. forces in Vietnam escalate their actions at a time like this?"

The churchmen, representing various faiths, urged that the United States "on its own initiative act for peace without requiring any prior commitment or act by its adversaries and thus prove our sincerity beyond a doubt."

Optimism About 1967

WASHINGTON (AP) — Businessmen have become more optimistic in the last three months about the 1967 economy, reports a business magazine.

Forty-one per cent of executives answering a poll by Nation's Business now predict improved conditions next year. Three months ago 30 per cent saw improvement.

Fifteen per cent now expect a decline, compared to 20 per cent in the earlier survey. The rest see no change.

Capital Footnotes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Bureau of Mines reports from a survey that underground formations along the Gulf Coast include enough salt to last the world for thousands of years. 70 million tons of sulfur and more than 5 billion barrels of oil.

The Department of the Interior says it has cut lamprey infestation of Lake Superior by 90 per cent since 1961, leading to a comeback in Great Lakes trout.

Capitol News in Brief

Soviet Moon Test

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's second unmanned spaceship to make a soft landing on the moon "has tested the firmness and density of lunar ground," Tass says.

Besides transmitting fresh pictures back to earth, Luna 13 has forced a test rod into the lunar soil by means of mechanical manipulators, the Soviet news agency reported Monday. It said the rod will indicate surface and subsurface firmness.

Tass said the spaceship, which landed Saturday, also contained a radiation density meter to provide information about the firmness of the top layer of the moon's crust.

Score China President

TOKYO (AP) — A rally of 100,000 Red Guards in Peking denounced President Liu Shao-chi and party General Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping today as leaders of the "bourgeois reactionary line," Japanese correspondents reported from the Chinese capital.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported from Peking Monday that Liu and Teng would be arrested soon. The two are the highest targets of the purge led by Mao and his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Biao.

8 More Escape British Prisons For Yule Holiday

LONDON (AP) — Eight more convicts have escaped from British prisons, bringing the total for the Christmas weekend to 23. Only four have been recaptured.

Nearly 1,000 police with tracking dogs searched the bleak moorland for five convicts who overpowered two guards Monday at Dartmoor Prison and scaled the 30-foot wall.

3 Slip Away

Another three convicts slipped away from Leyhill Open Prison late Monday night and vanished into the rainy, misty countryside.

Two men were recaptured Monday who had escaped from another open prison in Derbyshire Christmas eve.

The start of the convicts' Christmas rush coincided with the publication last week of a report from Earl Mountbatten that Britain has not a single secure jail. Mountbatten was commissioned to investigate the prison situation after master spy George Blake escaped from Wormwood Scrubs, in London, in October. Blake has not been recaptured.

The five Dartmoor fugitives, all robbers serving terms ranging from 4 to 15 years, brought the number of escapes from the forbidding old prison to 15 this year.

600 in Dartmoor

There are about 600 prisoners in Dartmoor, which is located near the lonely village of Princetown in the far west of England. All but 50 are serving long terms. The rest were put there to relieve overcrowding in other jails.

In the first escape Monday six prisoners grabbed two officers, took their keys and let themselves out of the gymnasium where about 24 men were playing games.

Police are still looking for Frank Mitchell, "The Mad Ax-man" who walked away from a Dartmoor working party Dec. 12.

Mountbatten criticized Dartmoor authorities for allowing a man like Mitchell outside the walls. He conceded that the jail, built in 1806 for French prisoners captured in the Napoleonic wars, was inadequate for modern requirements.

Jail Candidate

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Suh Min-ho, the presidential candidate of South Korea's Democratic Socialist party, was sentenced today to two years in prison for saying he would be willing to meet with North Korea's Premier Kim Il-sung to discuss Korean reunification.

Now Insulaire®, the 365-nights-a-year blanket

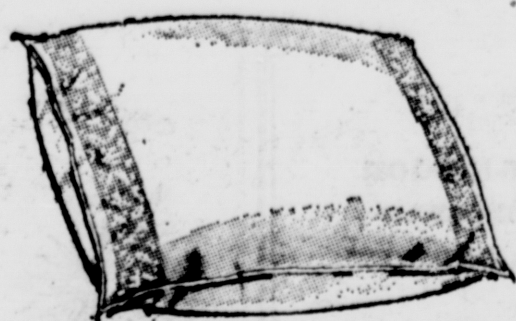

And only Morgan-Jones brings you this wondrous new thermal blanket. Cool in summer, warm in winter—it's all, all the blanket you'll ever need again. Insulaire's magic is in its airloom weave. Thousands of tiny cells speed away body heat in summer. Comes winter, toss any light cover over Insulaire and it warms you perfectly. No weighty feeling. No electric rigamarole. Nothing but Insulaire. Come see it. You'll love Insulaire's hand-crocheted look—it's pretty enough to use as a bedspread, too. Machine-wash-and-dryable in pure cotton, with deep nylon satin binding.
